EXPLORATION AND DISCOVERY.

The field of exploration and discovery is enlarging with the advance of civilization. Though much has been done in recent years to explore unknown areas, the more urgent needs of both land and sea necessary. A good deal of important pioneer work is constantly being done by men, of whom little is ever heard. Below is a concise record of exploring expeditions from 1901 to date, giving name of expedition, commander, financed by, destination, time in field, and most notable results:

Swedish (Antarctic), Dr. O. Nordenskjöld, steamship Antarctic, government and private subscriptions, King Oscar Land, 1901-4. Fossils which indicate a previous warm climate.

English Antarctic, Capt. R. F. Scott, R. N., steamship Discoverer, Royal Geographical Society, government and private subscriptions, Victoria Land, 1901-4. Reached farthest south 82 deg. 17 min.; exploration of the inland ice.

German Antarctic, Prof. E. von Drygalski, government, Wilkes Land, 1902-3. Discovery of Gaussberg; important scientific data.

Scottish Antarctic, W. S. Bruce, steamship Scotia, private subscription, Weddell Sea, 1903-4. Four thousand miles unexplored sea surveyed; discovered new lands S. of Weddell Sea.

American Antarctic, Dr. Robert Peary, steamship Thetis, private subscription, Peary Land, 1906. Reached North Pole, 1909.

French Antarctic, Dr. Alfred Faure, steamship Albatross, private subscription, Peary Land, 1906. Reached North Pole, 1909.

French Antarctic, Dr. Alfred Faure, steamship Albatross, private subscription, Peary Land, 1906. Reached North Pole, 1909.

loss of his ship and the severe ice conditions no important progress was made toward the North Pole.

Norwegian Magnetic Pole, Roald Amundsen, sloop Gjøa, Rørd Amundsen, North Magnetic Pole, 1903. The Magnetic Pole was located by a thorough series of magnetic observations and the little sloop Gjøa was forced through the Northwest passage, thus making not only a record pioneer voyage, but a new map of the northern boundary of North America.

Hubbard Labrador, Leonidas Hubbard, Outing Magazine, Interior of Labrador, 1903-4. Insufficient supply of food compelled the party to abandon the enterprise. Mr. Hubbard died of starvation. Two independent parties embarked in May, 1905, to complete the work of the ill-fated Hubbard Expedition. The first was under the direction of Dillon Wallace, the companion of Hubbard, and the second was led by Mrs. Hubbard. Both expeditions succeeded in crossing Labrador from the south to Ungava Bay.

Peary North Pole, Comdr. R. E. Peary, Peary Arctic Club, North Pole, 1905. Comdr. Peary returned in Nov. 1906, reported having reached the farthest north, 87 deg. 6 min., a point on the ice of the Polar Sea, about 175 nautical miles from the geographical North Pole.

The Duke of Orleans, in a summer cruise along the Pacific coast of East Greenland, also reported the discovery of a large land area beyond the Cape Bernhart of a large land apparently continuous with Greenland, which was named Terre de France.

An expedition to Alaska, under the direction of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, explored and charted 3,000 square miles of land not previously mapped.

The record of the farthest north, 87 deg. 6 min., is held by Comdr. R. E. Peary, U. S. N. The record of the highest ascent on the continent of North America, Mt. McKinley, 29,300 feet, is held by Dr. Frederick A. Cook and his companion, Edward Barrill.

The record of the farthest south, 82 deg. 17 min., is held by Capt. Scott of the British expedition.

Walter Wellman spent the summer of 1907 on the Island of Spitzbergen waiting for a favorable opportunity to reach the North Pole by means of an airship. Mr. Wellman accomplished nothing.

An Anglo-American expedition under Elmer Mikelsen and Ernest Leffingwell was heard from Sept. 10, 1907, by way of Alaska. The expedition spent some months traversing the ice north of Alaska, but discovered no new land.

Lieut. E. H. Shackleton sailed for the Antarctic from England on July 30. Winter quarters are to be established for two years on King Edward VII. Land. The expedition plans to return in January, 1909.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook of Brooklyn went north in the summer of 1907 and established a polar base at Etah, in Greenland. He proposes to make an effort to reach the Pole by crossing Ellsmere Land.

Erie Canal.

The Erie Canal is 351.39 miles long; its width is 52½ feet; depth, 7 feet, and it has 72 locks.

CUBA.

The relations between the U. S. and Cuba are defined in what is known as the Platt Amendment to the Army Appropriation bill of 1901, the Cuban Constitutional Convention having accepted the conditions there imposed, which are 8 in number:

1. That the govt. of Cuba shall never enter into any treaty or other compact with any foreign power or powers which will impair or tend to impair the independence of Cuba, nor in any manner authorize or permit any foreign power or powers to obtain by colonization or for military or naval purposes or otherwise, lodgment in or control over any portion of said island.
2. That said govt. shall not assume or contract any public debt, to pay the interest upon which, and to make reasonable sinking fund provision for the ultimate discharge of which the ordinary revenues of the island, after defraying the current expenses of govt., shall be inadequate.
3. That the govt. of Cuba consents that the U. S. may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence, the maintenance of a govt. adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty, and for discharging the obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the U. S., now to be assumed and undertaken by the govt. of Cuba.
4. That all acts of the U. S. in Cuba during its military occupancy thereof are ratified and validated, and all lawful rights acquired thereunder shall be maintained and protected.
5. That the govt. of Cuba will execute, and, as far as necessary, extend, the plans already devised or other plans to be mutually agreed upon, for the sanitation of the cities of the island, to the end that a recurrence of epidemic and infectious diseases may be prevented, thereby assuring protection to the people and commerce of Cuba, as well as to the commerce of the Southern ports of the U. S. and the people residing therein.
6. That the Isle of Pines shall be omitted from the proposed constitutional boundaries of Cuba, the title thereto being left to future adjustment by treaty.
7. That to enable the U. S. to maintain the independence of Cuba, and to protect the people thereof, as well as for its own defense, the govt. of Cuba will sell or lease to the U. S. lands necessary for coaling or naval stations at certain specified points, to be agreed upon with the President of the U. S.

8. That by way of further assurance the govt. of Cuba will embody the foregoing provisions in a permanent treaty with the U. S.

A treaty between Cuba and the U. S. was concluded July 2, 1903, under which Cuba leased to the U. S. territory at Bahia Honda and Guantanamo, to be used as naval stations. The U. S. has established permanent barracks and a small force of men at Guantanamo.

CUBAN REBELLION.

Disorders in Cuba, arising from alleged grave frauds in elections and various government abuses, became serious in Aug., 1906. Armed rebellion resulted in numerous clashes between government troops and insurgents in Aug. and Sept. Pres. Palma rejected all peace propositions and on Sept. 3 declared for war. Conditions grew worse and anarchy was threatened. Pressure for American intervention became strong. Two weeks later Sec. Taft, under authority of the President, exercised by virtue of the Platt amendment, proclaimed himself governor of Cuba, marines were landed at Havana and elsewhere and President Roosevelt ordered 6,000 troops to Havana. Sec. Taft issued a proclamation declaring that American occupation would continue only until order was restored and new elections could be arranged for and held. Judge Chas. E. Magoon was appointed provisional governor on October 3, and the affairs of the island have since been administered by him. On December 1 there were 4,260 American troops on the island.

PORTO RICO.

Porto Rico is 108 miles east to west and 37 to 43 miles across; total area, 3,606 square miles. It is 1,050 miles from Key West, Fla. The rainy season lasts from Aug. to Dec. Porto Rico and adjacent islands lying east of the 74th meridian are governed under an act which became a law April 12, 1900, giving the island a civil government. The capital is San Juan. Persons who were Spanish subjects April 11, 1899, and who have not elected to preserve their allegiance to Spain are held to be citizens of Porto Rico, and entitled to the protection of the United States. The designation of the body politic is under the name "The People of Porto Rico." The Governor is appointed by the President and holds office for four years, having the powers conferred on governors of territories of the United States, but is to make his reports through the Secretary of State to the President. There is an executive council appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate, consisting of a secretary, attorney general, treasurer, auditor, commissioners of interior and education, and 5 other persons to hold office for 4 years. The Council is the upper branch of the Legislature, five of whom are natives of Porto Rico. The other branch is the House of Delegates, consisting of thirty-five members elected biennially by the qualified electors.

No person is eligible to membership in the House of Delegates who is not 25 years of age, able to read and write either Spanish or the English language, or who is not possessed in his own right of taxable property, real and personal, situated in Porto Rico. Provision is made for enacting legislation similar to that in territories. The island government contributes nothing to the national government, the entire revenue of the Dingley tariff and its own system of internal revenue taxation, on cigars, cigarettes, rum, spirits, etc., being converted into the island treasury. It carries on a system of government as complex as any State or Territorial government of the country.

HAWAII.

The Hawaiian Islands, annexed to the United States by the signature of the President July 7, 1898, lie in the North Pacific, little more than 2,000 miles west of the U. S., 3,400 miles from Yokohama and 4,800 miles from Hong Kong. The inhabited and only important islands of the group are 8 in number, comprising an area of about 6,700 sq. miles; the largest island, Hawaii, includes nearly two-thirds. They stretch out in a chain 400 miles long, running from southeast to northwest.

The islands were discovered in 1778 by Captain Cook. They were united into one kingdom under King Kamehameha I. in 1791. The integrity of the kingdom was recognized by the United States, France and Great Britain under the reign of Kamehameha III. In Jan., 1893, a disagreement between Queen Liliuokalani and her cabinet caused an uprising, resulting in a provincial government being formed. On July 4, 1894, a republic was proclaimed, with Sanford B. Dole as president. Agitation among the ruling element for annexation to the U. S. followed. On Aug. 12, 1898, the formal transfer of the island to the sovereignty of the U. S. took place. June 14, 1900, it became a customs district.

Government.

The islands are governed under a law enacted April 30, 1900. It provides that the islands shall be known as the "Territory of Hawaii," and that the capital shall be at Honolulu, on the island of Oahu. The Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii consists of two houses, Senate and House of Representatives, styled "The Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii." The Senate is composed of 15 members, who hold office for 4 yrs. Senators must be citizens of the U. S., over 30 yrs. of age, and have resided in the Hawaiian Islands not less than 3 years. The House of Representatives is composed of 30 members, elected every second year. Representatives must be 25 yrs. of age, be citizens of the U. S., and must have resided in the Hawaiian Islands not less than 3 years. Hawaii is represented in the Congress of the U. S. by a delegate.

The present delegate is Tonah Kuhio Kanihano, elected by the Republican party.

Population Statistics.

The first census of the Hawaiian Islands was taken in 1832, followed by census of 1836, 1850, 1853 and 1860. These are said to have been of very rudimentary character. In 1865, however, the Legislative Assembly made it the duty of the Board of Education every sixth year, counting from 1860, to make a complete census of the kingdom. By this requirement a census was taken every six years from 1866 to 1896, and the census of 1900 was taken as part of the work of the U. S. twelfth census. The census of 1832 showed a population of 130,313, but each succeeding census up to 1872 showed a loss, that in 1872 showing only 56,897. Since that time the population has steadily increased. Honolulu, in Oahu Island, is practically the only city in Hawaii. Its population in 1896 was 13,521, and, according to U. S. census taken in June, 1900, its population was 39,306.

THE PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

The Philippine Archipelago is made up of Luzon, Visayas, Mindanao, Mindoro, Palawan and Sulu. The aggregate area of the 3,139 charted islands is 121,395.5 square miles, with a population of 7,635,426 in 1903. The great bulk of the inhabitants are of Malay stock or origin. Of the total number of islands only about 342 are known to be permanently inhabited. The principal and largest island, on which Manila is situated, Luzon, 548 miles long with a varying width of from 9 to 138 miles, contains 43,075 square miles and had a population of 3,798,507 in 1903. The largest rivers are the Cagayan (220 miles), Pampanga (160 miles), Abra (75 miles), Pasig (18 miles)— all in Luzon—and the Rio Grande or Pulangul (292 miles) and Agusan (155 miles), both in Mindanao.

Oct. 16, 1907, the legislative power of the Philippine Commission was transferred to a legislature, which consists of two houses, the Philippine Commission and the Philippine Assembly, with the Governor General at the head. Four members of the commission continue to serve as chief administrative officers of the several executive departments.

Note—For details of the canal negotiations see Eagle Almanac of 1905, page 361.

By the terms of the treaty between the Republic of Panama and the United States, exchanged Feb. 26, 1904, the Republic of Panama granted to the United States the perpetual use, occupation and control of a strip of land, five miles wide on each side of the central line of the route of the canal. The same treaty conceded to the United States all the rights, powers and authority over this strip which this country would have if it were the sovereign of that territory.

Under this authority, and in accordance with an act of Congress approved April 28, 1904, the President, on behalf of the United States, took possession of the canal zone, and on May 9 organized a government for that territory.

By the terms of the treaty with Panama the United States guarantees and is to maintain the independence of the Republic of Panama. The canal is to be neutral. The purchase price for the property of the Panama Canal Company was $40,000,000, and the sum of $10,000,000 was paid to the Republic of Panama. In addition, Panama is to receive an annual payment of $250,000 in gold during the life of the treaty, beginning nine years after the date of ratification. By action of Congress, June 29, 1906, it was decided to have the canal built on the lock type.

The total excavations on November 1, 1907, aggregated 18,706,636 cubic yards, distributed as follows: Culebra division, 11,221,730; Gatun, 973,634; La Boca, 3,164,087; Colon, 3,227,166; Chagres, 49,873; Colon by dredges, 70,646 cubic yards.

The total force of skilled and unskilled laborers of the Isthmian Canal Commission and the Panama railroad on June 30, 1907, was 29,446, or an increase of 10,000 over 1906. During the fiscal year 20,884 men were brought to the Isthmus from the United States, Europe and the West Indies. The total amount of expenditures of the Canal Commission to July 1, 1907, was $48,285,110.37.

New Municipal Building.

The plans for a new Brooklyn municipal building, drawn by Washington Hunt and thrown out by former Borough President Littleton, and for which $500,000 were appropriated in 1904, have been succeeded by new plans which Borough President Coler has had prepared. The latter were approved by the Municipal Art Commission, Apr. 9, 1907, and by the Board of Estimate, Apr. 12, 1907. The plans provide for a ten story office building, to cover the site of the present Municipal Building, old Murphy Park buildings on the corner of Joralemon and Court and the site of the Polytechnic Institute. The building will be the largest in Brooklyn, covering nearly one-half of a large block. It will contain nearly half a million square feet of floor space. The estimated cost is about $7,000,000.

Part of the building will be occupied by municipal departments and the rest will be rented for offices. It will take, it is estimated, between three and four years to complete the building.

NORTH AND EAST RIVER TUNNELS.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD TUNNEL.

The Pennsylvania R. R. project of tunneling under the North and East Rivers, the Boroughs of Manhattan and Queens, giving a continuous track connection between the Pennsylvania and L. I. R. R., with a central station in Manhattan and a terminal east of Thompson av., L. I. City, in Queens, was made public Dec. 12, 1901. The Pa. N. Y. and L. I. R. R. Co., capitalized at $20,000,000, was organized under the laws of the State of N. Y. on April 22, 1902, for the purpose of constructing that portion of such tunnel railroad situated in the State of N. Y., and the Pa. N. Y. and L. I. R. R. Co., capitalized at $500,000, was organized under the laws of the State of N. Y. on Feb. 12, 1902, for the purpose of constructing that portion of the tunnel railroad extending from Newark, N. J., to a connection with the Pa. N. Y. and L. I. R. R. Co. under the Hudson River. James McCrea is Pres. of these companies.

The plan devised by Chas. M. Jacobs, Consulting Engineer of the L. I. R. R. and Chief Engineer of the Pa. N. Y. and L. I. R. R. Co., and of the Pa. Tunnel and Terminal Co., calls for at least six tubes—two 23 ft. ext. diam., about 100 ft. below high water tide under North River and four under East River, each tube holding a single track. The tunnel system will connect at a central station located in a space between 7th and 10th avs., and between 31st and 33d, Mhtn. The station structure, designed after the Quai d'Orsay, Paris, but twice as large, will be 1,500 ft. in length by 500 ft. in width, 3 deked, inclosing 25 tracks at tunnel level, which will be approached by gradual carriage drive and walkway. The East R. section, beginning at 7th av., Mhtn., at the big terminal station and ending at Thompson av., L. I. City, is 2.85 miles long. Two separate lines of twin tunnels will proceed under 32d and 33d at a varying depth to 2d av., where they turn a little to the northward and gradually converge as they pass under the East R. and the L. I. side until they meet in a long, open cut structure. The tunnel tubes will be laid below 31st, in Manhattan, and underneath L. I. City in Queens. In addition to the station in Manhattan a second central station is contemplated for Brooklyn in E. N. Y. Entire length of tunnel system will be 15 miles, and cost $30,000,000, and will be completed in 1909.

The franchise was passed by Board of Aldermen December 16, 1902, and signed by Mayor Seth Low, Dec. 25, 1902. The franchise is perpetual, with revaluation every 25 years, but the rate originally fixed never to be lowered upon revaluation. The rate fixed is for the first 10 years after operation begins, 50 cents per linear foot of single track under Mhtn., and for the remaining 15 years $1 per linear foot. A nominal payment of $100 per year is to be made for ground under each river, and the company is to pay $788,600 for the fee to part of 32d, to be closed and used for a city station. The payments will net the city about $2,500,000 for the first 25-year term. The specifications of the Pennsylvania Railroad's tunnel contract call for the laying of 11,840 ft., or over 2 1-5 miles of single track, concrete-lined tunnels; 8,840 ft., with 2 or 3 tracks; 1,670 feet single track, concrete-lined, built in cut and cover; 3,790 ft. 4 to 7 track tunnels in open cut and cover; 1,700 ft. 3 and 4 track tunnels, with steel truss bents and concrete lining, and 2,049 ft. of cast iron shell single track shield-driven tunnel, of which 12,174 ft. will have screw piles. During 1904 5 shafts were sunk; 2 in L. I. City, 2 in Mhtn. and 1 in Jersey, and the work on the tunnels has so advanced that only about 10 per cent. of it remains to be done. Experts estimate that it should be completed, at the present rate of progress, in 2 years. The engineering work is in charge of Chas. M. Jacobs and Alfred Noble. S. Pearson & Son, Inc., have the contract for the construction of the East R. section of the tunnel; O'Rourke Eng. Construction Co., the construction of the North R. tunnels; New York Contracting Co. that for terminal station at 33d, Mhtn.

The two tubes under the North R., bet. the shaft in Jersey City, nr. the river front, and the shaft on 11th av., in Mhtn., have been joined under the middle of the river. The north shields met Sept. 12, 1906, and the south shields Oct. 9. The contractors are now lining the big steel tubes with concrete. The tracks in these tubes are to be supported underneath by steel piles forced through the intervening stratum of soft material down to the solid rock, many feet beneath the river's bed. This work will be completed during the ensuing year. The two tubes are together 13,300 ft. in length. The excavation on the west side of Mhtn., from the shaft on 11th av., is completed up to the big depot site which occupies four blocks bet. 7th and 9th avs. and 31st and 33d, and half of the block bet. 6th and 7th avs. and 32d and 33d. The entire excavation for the depressed yard under the station to a depth of 60 ft., and 40 per cent. of which is the hardest of rock formation, is now completed. The 4 track tunnel continuous from the East R. under 32d st. to the big station at 7th av., is now almost completed. The four big tubes under the East River have progressed until the respective headings of each from both sides of the river are on an average of only 800 feet from fixing up. The tunnels under L. I. City from East av. westerly to the river shaft are all completed but the lining. It is expected that the entire work under the East R. will be completed in less than a year, and that the railroad will be in operation through these some time in 1909.

N. Y. & J. AND H. & M. TUNNELS.

The Hudson Company was incorporated in 1905, with a capital stock of $16,000,000 preferred, and $5,000,000 common, for the purpose of financing and constructing the tunnel lines of the New York and Jersey R. R. Co. and the Hudson & Manhattan R. R. Co., the controlling interest in each of which it owns. W. G. Oakman is Pres. The New York & Jersey R. R. extends from Hoboken in N. J., under the North R. to Morton, Mhtn., thence up Morton to Greenwich; along Greenwich to Christopher; along Christopher to 6th av. and under 6th av. to 33d; a branch will also be constructed easterly to 9th to 4th av. The two tunnels of this Co. have been completed under the Hudson R. (diameter, 15 ft. 3 in.) and the work is now progressing under the streets of Mhtn. and on the N. J. approach. It is expected that the tunnels from Hoboken to 6th av. will be completed the early part of 1908. Trains similar to those now used in the N. Y. Subway will be operated through these tunnels. W. G. McAdoo is Pres. of this Co.

The Hudson and Manhattan R. R., W. G. McAdoo, Pres., extends from the Pennsylvania R. R. station in Jersey City under the river to terminal station to be erected on Church, between Cortlandt and Fulton, Mhtn. Two tunnels are to be built, with a single track in each. The motive power in both cases is to be electricity.

The executive office of the Hudson Company is located at 111 E'way, Mhtn.

N. Y. AND L. I. R. R.

New York and Long Island R. R., commonly known as the Belmont tunnel, will connect the New York and Queens Co. Electric Railway Co. in L. I. City, controlled by the Belmont interests, with the Grand Central Station and also the ferry terminus of the West Shore road at the foot of W. 42d. The first shaft sunk was on the south side of 42d, between Lex and 3d avs. Work was stopped in November, 1905, by order of the Mayor, who held that the company's franchise was defective. Office of the Co., 13 Park Row, Mhtn. During 1906, legal matters having been adjusted, work progressed. The tunnel is practically completed.

Coal in Great Britain in 1906.

The total production of coal in Great Britain in 1906 amounted to 265,204,716 tons, against 249,782,594 tons in 1905. The number of mine employes increased from 858,373 to 882,345.

NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN SUBWAYS.

(For detailed history, see Eagle Almanac, 1905, page 450.)

The Subway begins at So. Ferry, thence under B'way and City Hall Park to City Hall Station, up Elm to Lafayette, to 4th av., to 42d, to B'way, to 104th, where it branches into 2 sections, 1 continuing to Ft. George and beyond to Kingsbridge, the second going to the east to Lenox av., to 141st; thence under the Harlem River to Bronx Park. The contract was let to John B. McDonald, on Feb. 24, 1900. Ground was first broken on March 24, in front of the City Hall, by Mayor Van Wyck. The contract price was $35,000,000, the contractor agreeing to build, equip and operate the road for 50 years. The contractor was required to furnish security to the amount of $7,000,000 for the faithful performance of his contract. This he did through the organization of the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Co., Aug. Belmont, president, which guaranteed Mr. McDonald's completion of his contract. The contract was divided into sections by the contractor and sub-let to under contractors. In 1902, an act of the Legislature permitting it. Contractor McDonald assigned his right to operate the underground road to the Interborough Rap. Tran. Co., which was organized for that purpose with a capital stock of $35,000,000.

The Interborough Co. in 1903 also took over the Manhattan Elevated R. R. Co. Its lease is for 999 years.

THE BROOKLYN TUNNEL.

The Rapid Transit Commission, Jan. 24, 1901, adopted the route to Bkln. as follows: From the New York City Hall down B'way to Bowling Green and State, to South Ferry, under East River to Joralemon, Bkln., to Fulton, to Flatbush av., to Atlantic av.

Bids for this franchise were opened July 21, 1902, and the award was made on July 24 to the Rapid Transit Subway Construction Co., it agreeing to build the line for $2,000,000, with an extra allowance of $1,000,000 for terminals and for real estate. The contract was signed Sept. 11, 1902, the bidding company giving as security for construction $1,000,000 in cash, and for guaranty of operation during the thirty-five year term of the franchise, a continuing bond of $1,000,000, also the bonds of sub-contractors assigned to the City of New York as additional security, aggregating $650,000. The contractor agrees to carry passengers over the extension and the Manhattan-Bronx Subway between any and all points for a single 5 cent fare. Four years is allowed for the road's building and a premium is offered for completion in less than three years. The actual cost of construction is estimated at not less than $8,000,000. The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. made a bid of $7,000,000, including $1,000,000 for terminals and for real estate, but failed to secure the award. The sub-contracts were awarded as follows: The Cranford-McNamee Co. for Brooklyn section, the Degnon Construction Co. section from City Hall to Battery, Mhtn.; New York Tunnel Co.,

the section under the river. Ground on the Lkln. tunnel was broken in Jan., 1903. Two shafts were erected in Joralemon st. and one at the Battery in Mhtn. Shields were driven under the East River from both the Bkln. and the Mhtn. shores to the center of the river. Work on the Fulton st. section of the tunnel was begun in 1904. Early in April, 1905, owing to change in plans to provide additional tracks and connections to other routes, construction in Fulton and Flatbush av. was almost completely suspended pending the obtaining of the necessary consent of the municipal authorities and property owners for this change, and work was resumed in Oct. of that year on the lines of the amended plans and has since been vigorously prosecuted.

In 1904 the Rapid Transit commission authorized the extension of the Bkln. subway from the proposed original terminus at Flatbush and Atlantic avs. past the Willinck entrance to Prospect Park, under Ocean av. to Parkside av., there to connect with the Brighton Beach branch of the Bkln. R. T. Co. This extension has been approved by the city authorities. This extension is to serve the people of Flatbush and the adjoining territory. Later disagreements between the Park Commissioner and the Commission over the proposed removal of trees along Ocean av. led to a suspension of plans.

The tunnel under the East River from the Battery to Joralemon st. is practically complete. The boring is completed, and the cement lining is put in. The first train to run through the tunnel conveyed a special party of engineers and officials, Nov. 27, 1907. The Borough Hall station, 375 ft. long and 52 ft. wide, is completed. The two-track tunnel west of that, under Joralemon st., is completed. The four-track structure under Fulton st. each of Borough Hall station is completed to Hanover pl. This line is to be completed to the Atlantic av. station of the L. I. R. R. in spring of 1908. The Hoyt and Nevins st. stations are nearly completed. The road will have five tracks on Flatbush av. and two tracks to connect with the proposed Lafayette av. extension will pass under this station. The terminal station at Atlantic av. will be 375 ft. long. The Interborough Co. will operate the trains.

The Rapid Transit Commission in 1906 adopted a comprehensive plan of tunnels for Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens.

The Mhtn. routes include a west side subway from the Battery to a connection with the present subway at Times sq.; an east side subway from the Battery through 1st and Alexander av. to 138th st.; one under Lexington av.; one each under 7th av., 8th av. and 9th av., and under 14th st., 23d. st. and 34th st. respectively.

The East River routes include one two-tube from Maiden lane, Mhtn., to Pineapple st., Bkln.; thence to Fulton st.; one four-tube from E. 14th st., Mhtn., to N. 7th st., Bkln., to connect with Bkln. subway loop connecting all the East River Bridges; one two-tube from E. 34th st., Mhtn., to Borden av., L. I. City, thence to connect with the Bkln. subway loop.

The Bkln. routes include the loop to connect the Bkln., Mhtn., Williamsburg and Blackwell's Island bridges, passing under Mhtn. av., Greenpoint av. to L. I. City; the Flatbush and 4th av. to Ft. Hamilton with sours via New Utrecht av. to Coney Island; from the Bkln. Bridge via Willoughby, Lafayette and Bedford avs. to Williamsburg Bridge; under Broadway from the Williamsburg Bridge to Jamaica. Surveys, soundings and borings for all these routes are completed.

The Fourth Av Subway it is estimated will cost $23,000,000. There was some question, after the retirement of the Rapid Transit Commission, as to the prosecution of the work. The new Public Service Commission, however, voted in favor of the 4th av. route, on Oct. 2, 1907.

The construction of a suspension bridge over the East River, between the boroughs of Mtn. and Bkln., and located at or near the foot of Broadway in Bkln., to, at or near the foot of Grand st., in Mtn., was authorized under the provisions of Chap. 789, Laws of 1895, and approved by the Governor of New York, May 27, 1895. In accordance with those provisions six commissioners were appointed, three each by the Mayors of Bkln. and New York, the two Mayors acting as ex-officio members. Before the construction of the bridge could be started it was necessary for the cities to purchase charter rights owned by the East River Bridge Co. to build a bridge in this locality, and on Dec. 18, 1895, the Bridge Commissioners purchased all rights of said company for the sum of $200,000.

On Jan. 18, 1898, a new commission of six members was appointed under the Greater New York Charter, which served until Jan. 1, 1902; the revised charter which went into effect that day provided that the Williamsburg Bridge, in common with all other city bridges, should be constructed and operated under the supervision of the Commissioner of Bridges. The first actual work on the bridge was begun on Oct. 28, 1896, when the Manhattan tower foundations were commenced.

The steel towers were completed about Jan. 1, 1901, and the end spans, between the main towers and anchorages, about May 1, 1901. The first wire rope for the construction of the temporary foot bridges, used in stringing the cables, was hoisted to place on April 11, 1901, and the first wire for the permanent cables crossed the river on Friday, Nov. 29, 1901. The stringing of the wires of the cables was completed June 27, 1902. The cables were completed in Aug., 1902, ready for the suspenders, and on Monday, Nov. 10, 1902, the suspenders were nearly all in place and everything was about ready for the commencement of the erection of the suspended span; but at 4:30 P.M. of that day a fire occurred on top of the Manhattan tower, which destroyed the timber platforms and frame work used in cable making on the south end of the tower and heated the cables supporting the footbridges to such an extent that they parted, allowing the footbridges to fall. New working platforms were required to complete the work on the cables and were constructed along the main cables, and the wrecked foot bridges removed, so that the work of erecting the suspended span was begun without much delay.

The erection of the main suspended span was begun on Jan. 15, 1903, and fully completed about Dec. 1, 1903. The south carriageway was completed and opened to traffic Dec. 19, 1903, and the north carriageway was opened on May 29, 1904. The south footwalk was opened on May 7 and the north footwalk on May 13, 1904.

The formal opening of the bridge occurred Saturday, Dec. 19, 1903.

On Nov. 3, 1904, passenger trolley cars were for the first time operated on the bridge. The Brooklyn R. T. Co. and C. I. and B. R. Co. both operate cars across the structure on the southerly tracks. The N. Y. City R. R. Co. use the north tracks and commenced operation of cars with the 14th St. Crosstown line on Feb. 9, 1904, followed by the 8th St. line a week later and by the Grand St. line on Nov. 28, 1905. The construction of an underground station for the railway traffic on the bridge is in progress at the Manhattan end, Snare & Triest, contractors. Date of contract, July 12, 1906.

BRIDGES NOS. 3 AND 4.

Bridges Nos. 3 and 4 over the East River were begun under the Van Wyck administration. On Nov. 30, 1898, the Mayor submitted proposals to the Board of Public Improvements for a third bridge between Mhntn. and Bkln., and one between Mhntn. and Queens Borough. That body ordered the preparation of preliminary plans for both proposed structures.

Manhattan Bridge (No. 3).

On Dec. 2, 1899, the Bridge Com. forwarded to the Sec. of War plans for a wire cable suspension bridge to extend from the Bowers and Canal, in Mhntn., to Myrtle av., between Gold and Prince, in Bkln. The ordinance authorizing construction was approved by the Mayor Jan. 8, 1900, and Jan. 23, 1900, the Sec. of War approved the plans. The estimated cost was fixed at $15,833,600, of which $9,552,000 was for the structure, $4,000,000 for land in Mhntn., and $2,281,600 for land in Bkln. The Bkln. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rogers, May 1, 1901, for $471,757, and the foundation was completed in Dec., 1902. The Mhntn. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rogers, Dec. 22, 1902, for $432,726.56, and the foundation was completed in March, 1904. Under Bridge Com. Lindenthal the plans as approved by the War Dept. and upon which construction was authorized were radically changed. These revised plans were approved by the Art Commission on March 10, 1903, and on July 9, 1903, the contract for masonry pedestals on top of the tower foundations was let to J. C. Rogers for $150,000. These pedestals were completed in Aug., 1904.

The Aldermen withheld authorization of a bond issue for the bridge under Com. Lindenthal's revised plans, embracing steel eye-bar chains in place of wire cables, and early in 1904 a further revision of plans was made, involving a return to the wire cable design. June 23, 1904, the Mayor approved the bond issue to provide funds for the continuance of the construction of the bridge and on Sept. 15, 1904, the Art Commission approved the latest revision of plans. The bridge will cross the East River bet. the ft. of Pike, Mhntn., and Washington, Bkln., the terminals being at the Bowery in Mhntn., and Nassau, in Bkln. Flatbush av. will be extended to the Bkln. terminal. The total length will be about 6,854 ft. and the extreme width 120 ft. The elevation above mean high water at center will be 135 ft. clear. There will be four trolley tracks and four elevated railway tracks, one 35 ft. roadway and two 11 ft. promenades. Bids for the two anchorages were opened Dec. 22, 1904. The Bkln. anchorage contract was let to Kosmos Engineering Co., Jan. 24, 1905, for $1,212,554, and the Mhntn. anchorage contract was let to Williams Engineering and Contracting Co., Feb. 9, 1905, for $1,197,000. The buildings have been removed from the anchorage sites, work is progressing on both anchorages, and they are now practically ready for cable construction. On Aug. 10, 1905, bids were opened for furnishing the metal work for the anchorages and constructing the towers, cables, suspenders and suspended superstructure. Five bids were received, that of the Pennsylvania Steel Co., for $7,248,739, being the lowest.

The contract was awarded to the Pennsylvania Steel Co., but this award was set aside by the courts on a taxpayer's action. Bids were again advertised for and the contract was awarded to the Ryan-Parker Construction Co. on June 15, 1906, at a price of $6,493,223, since which date the manufacture and fabrication of the steel required has progressed.

Nearly all of the steel for the towers has been rolled and the towers are now in process of erection. On Oct. 8, 1907, the city acquired the title to most of the property required for both the Mhntn. and Bkln. approaches. The plans and specifications for the approaches are now completed ready for receiving bids.

Blackwell's Island Bridge (No. 4).

The general plan for a cantilever bridge from 2d av., bet. 59th and 60th, Mhntn., across Blackwell's Island to an intersection with Jane st., L. I. C., was submitted to the Sec. of War, Dec. 2, 1899. Its estimated cost was $12,548,500, of which $3,400,000 was for the structure itself, $2,398,500 for land required in Mhntn. and $750,000 for land in L. I. City. Nov. 15, 1900, the ordinance authorizing construction was approved by the Mayor, and on Feb. 23, 1901, the plans were approved by the War Dept. March 29, 1901, the Aldermen authorized condemnation proceedings for the land required, and June 27, 1901, the contract for the construction of the 6 masonry piers was let to Ryan & Parker, for $745,547.

Construction of the piers was commenced July 19, 1901, and completed June 10, 1904, at a total cost of $838,565.01. The contract for the steel superstructure was let to the Pennsylvania Steel Co., Nov. 20, 1903, for $5,132,985. The erection of this superstructure is in progress. The contract for power houses and elevator towers on the piers was let to the Williams Engineering and Contracting Co. on Dec. 31, 1903, for $685,000. Work under this contract is in progress. The contracts for the Queens Viaduct was let to the Bkln. Realty Const. Co., Jan. 21, 1907, for $787,891. The contract for the approach in Mhntn. was let to the Snare & Triest Co., May 21, 1907, for $1,576,760. The contract for the approach in Queens was let to the Maryland Steel Co., September 4, 1907, for $758,600. The total length of the bridge will be 7,636 ft. The lengths of the spans are: Mhntn. anchor span, 469 5-10 ft.; west channel span, 1,132 ft.; Island span, 630 ft.; east channel span, 984 ft.; Queens anchor span, 459 ft. The clear height over river channels will be 135 ft. Plans were approved by the Art Commission, Feb. 10, 1903.

WATER SUPPLY OF NEW YORK CITY.

BROOKLYN.

Brooklyn's water supply is obtained for the most part from the southern slope of Long Island west of Amityville, about one-fifth being obtained from surface streams and four-fifths from driven well stations within the same territory. This water is delivered through iron pipes and a brick conduit to the main pumping station at Ridgewood, from where it is raised to the Ridgewood reservoirs. These reservoirs have a capacity of about 300,000,000 gallons, and supply the greater part of the distribution mains of the borough. Certain high sections of Brooklyn, known as the high-service sections, obtain their water from the Mount Prospect reservoir and tower, the water for the tower service being taken from the distribution mains coming down from the Ridgewood reservoir and pumped at the Mount Prospect Pumping Station. The supply system includes 7½ miles of brick conduit from Massapequa to the Millburn Pumping Station, three lines of cast-iron pipe from the Millburn Pumping Station to Smith's Pond (a distance of about 3 miles), and a brick conduit and two lines of 48-inch cast-iron pipe from Smith's Pond to the Ridgewood Pumping Station, the distance between these two points being about 12 miles. In addition to this, about 8½ miles of a 72-inch steel main have been laid from Ridgewood east. It is proposed to extend this steel main to the easternmost limits of the watershed and use it as a force main to pump from different points on the island directly into the distribution system. From Ridgewood pumping station six (6) force mains lead up to the reservoir. Along the conduit lines are 19 driven well stations, one pond pumping station (known as Smith's pond), 2 infiltration gallery pumping stations, 2 mechanical filter plants, 2 sand filter beds and a pumping station at Millburn that raises the water delivered there from the eastern conduit terminal to the higher level of the western conduit. The gravity supply is obtained from 10 ponds having a total storage capacity of about 1,000,000,000 gallons. On Jan. 1, 1907, the distribution system consisted of about 850 miles of distributing mains, with 11,847 stop-cocks and 11,826 hydrants. The present safe pumping capacity of the Ridgewood pumping station is about 140,000,000 gallons daily. There are now under contract 5 additional pumping engines for the Ridgewood pumping station that will increase the pumping capacity by about 90,000,000 gallons.

Within the limits of the Borough of Brooklyn there are at present 4 other important plants obtaining their supply from driven wells—the Flatbush Water Works, which is owned by a private company and supplies the 29th ward; the New Lots, Gravesend and New Utrecht plants, owned by the City, and which supply the 26th, 30th and 31st wards. In addition to this, there is under contract at present all work necessary for establishing a fifth pumping station, namely, the Canarsie Pumping Station, which will obtain its supply from driven wells and have a safe capacity of at least 5,000,000 gallons per day. The New Lots plant is located at New Lots av., at the head of Fresh Creek. The old plant had 2 pumping engines, one of 3,000,000 gallons and one of 3,500,000 gallons daily capacity. A new pumping station with new wells, has been completed in this vicinity and is now in operation. It contains two 5,000,000-gallon pumping engines. The total average daily pumpage from the New Lots plants is 7,144,000 gallons. The Flatbush Water Works are located at the head of Paerdegat Creek. They have one 5,000,000 and two 3,000,000 pumping engines, and are installing a 10,000,000-gallon pumping engine; they also have a stand-pipe at Franklin and Washington avenues, and claim to have about 100 miles of distribution mains—the average daily pumpage being stated as being about 6,000,000 gallons. The New Utrecht plant is located at E. 14th st. and Av. U. and contains two 2,000,000-gallon engines—the average daily pumpage being about 1,539,000 gallons. The Gravesend plant is at E. 17th st. and Av. K, and contains 2 pumping engines—the average daily pumpage being about 3,238,000 gallons. At this station a new building has been erected and a 6,500,000-gallon pumping engine installed, and as soon as the work on the additional wells is completed the new plant will be put into service. Within the borough limits are four other unimportant private water systems. In addition to the above plants there are 3 high-pressure fire-service stations within the borough limits—the one at Coney Island being completed and in service, and the other two it is expected will be put in service the early part of the year. These stations, however, are not intended for any use except fire service, and do not add in any way to the supply of the borough.

The average daily consumption from the Ridgewood, Gravesend, New Utrecht and New Lots stations, in 1907, was about 136,000,000 gallons.

MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX.

The water supply of Manhattan is received from the Croton watershed, thirty miles north of the borough. The capacity of the aqueduct and reservoirs is 350,000,000 gallons per day. In Bronx the territory east of Harlem River is supplied from the Bronx and Byram River watersheds, through a 48-inch pipe conduit 15 miles in length from the storage reservoir at Kensico to the receiving and distributing reservoir at Williamsbridge. The maximum capacity of this conduit is about 22,000,000 gallons per day. The Williamsbridge reservoir has a capacity of 147,000,000 gallons. The territory east of the Bronx River was formerly supplied by the New York and Westchester Water Company, but this plant was purchased by the city in December, 1902. The work of constructing the reservoirs and mains was begun in 1855 by an act of the Legislature. The system was completed in 1842 and the water was turned on on the 4th of July of that year. The conduit from the Croton Dam to Central Park Reservoirs is about 40 miles. The new Croton Aqueduct was opened July 15, 1890, and has a capacity of about 300,000,000 gallons. Highbridge has a reservoir with 11,000,000 gallons. The reservoir in Central Park will hold 1,200,000,000 gallons. The system of water mains in Manhattan & Bronx now includes 1,171 miles of combined mains, with 17,376 fire hydrants. The combined storage capacity of the reservoirs in Croton, Bronx and Byram River sheds is 44,500,000,000 gallons.

The main wall of the new Croton dam is 200 ft. thick at the bottom, 1,000 ft. long, with a spillway of 1,000 ft., making an extended masonry of 2,000 ft. It extends 134 ft. below bed of river, 166 ft. high above bed of river and its top is 216 ft. above tide water and 160 ft. above the reservoir in Central Park. The dam was commenced in 1892. The estimated cost was $4,150,573. The actual cost will be about $5,500,000. It will have a storage capacity of 30,000,000,000 gallons, and the lake, when the water rises to the spillway, will be between 19 and 20 miles long. This lake was partially filled in 1904 and 1905.

QUEENS.

The city owns 6 water plants in service; 3 in 1st Ward (L. I. City), 3 in 3d Ward (Flushing, College Point, Whitestone). WATER SUPPLY OF NEW YORK CITY—Continued.

2,000,000 gallons in 24 hours. Whitestone Pumping Station—One 1,000,000 gallon pumping engine. Source of supply, driven wells, yield about 500,000 gallons in 24 hours.

The public water system of the whole borough includes 96 miles of mains, 1,450 fire hydrants, 1,702 gate, 11,000 houses are supplied. In addition to above are contracts for large water mains in 1st and 3d Wards, amounting to $200,000, work on which will begin early in 1908.

Private water companies supply part of the borough. Five million gallons are furnished to the 1st Ward by Citizens' Water Supply Co. The city pays $18 to $25 per year each for following hydrants: Queens County Water Co., 356 hydrants; Woodhaven Water Co., 737 hydrants; Citizens' Water Supply Co., 803 hydrants; Jamaica Water Supply Co., 1,009 hydrants.

The water supply of Jamaica is from driven wells nearby. The daily pumping capacity is 3,000,000 gallons; daily consumption is 2,500,000 gallons, and annual consumption is 900,000,000. There are 55 miles of mains.

The water supply of the town of Newtown is derived from 25 driven wells. The Citizens' Water Supply Co. has 7 pumping stations, with a total pumping capacity of 27,000,000 gallons per day. The stations are situated: No. 1, at Clermont av., Elmhurst, with a capacity of 3,750,000 gallons, from 28 driven wells; No. 2, at Trains Meadow, Woodside, 5,000,000 gallons, from 90 driven wells; No. 3, at Willow Glen, near Jamaica, 6,000,000 gallons, from 43 driven wells; No. 4, on the Backus Farm, at Whitepot, 1,500,000 gallons, from 16 driven wells; No. 5, on the Backus Farm, Hoffman boulevard, 1,750,000 gallons, from 14 driven wells; No. 6, Maurice av., Maspeth, 1,600,000 gallons, from 16 driven wells; No. 7, at Great Neck, 4,000,000 gallons; No. 8, at Douglaston, 8,000,000 gallons. The system has about 125 miles of mains, with 803 hydrants and 7,000 private consumers, beside supplying the 1st Ward, Borough of Queens, with 5,000,000 gallons daily. The average daily output is 12,000,000 gallons, but the pumping capacity is 26,000,000 gallons.

RICHMOND.

Of the 4 water plants one is owned by the city, located at Tottenville. It has a capacity of 334,000,000 gallons per day, capacity of stand-pipe, 140,000 gallons, and the daily consumption is about 110,000 gallons. The water is drawn from 8 driven wells. The system has 84 miles of mains and 76 fire hydrants. The other 3 plants are private enterprises and comprise the following: Crystal Water Co. at Stapleton, supplying village of Edgewater and towns of Southfield, Northfield and Middletown, outside of incorporated villages; the South Shore Water Co. at New Dorp, and Staten Island Water Supply Co. at West New Brighton, supplying villages of New Brighton and Port Richmond and town of Northfield.

The Crystal Water Co. has a capacity of 5,000,000 and daily consumption of 2,500,000 gals.

The South Shore Water Supply Co. has a pumping capacity of 750,000 and consumption of 80,000 gallons per day.

The Staten Island Water Supply Co. has a pumping capacity of 8,000,000 gallons and consumption of 4,000,000 gallons per day.

There are 132 miles of mains, 1,062 fire hydrants and 62 draw hydrants. The city pays $25 per year for 629 fire hydrants, $20 per year for 18 fire hydrants, $30 per year for 351 fire hydrants, $30 per year for 62 draw hydrants and $40 per year for 18 fire hydrants.

CITIZENSHIP, NATURALIZATION, RESIDENCE AND QUALIFICATION OF VOTERS.

A child born in a foreign country of a mother who is a citizen of the United States is not himself a citizen by reason of his mother's citizenship. The inhabitants of Hawaii are citizens of the United States by virtue of annexation. Not less than 2 nor more than 7 years before his admission he must declare, on oath or affirmation, before any court of record, with seal, of unlimited jurisdiction, of any State or Territory, or before a Circuit or District Court of the United States, his intention to become a citizen, etc. The language excludes County Courts, hitherto having jurisdiction. Any person over 18 years of age may declare intention and every person must declare intention. There is a fee of $1 for receiving and filing declaration of intention; of $2 for filing petition, and of $2 for making final order and issuing citizenship certificate. Question blanks for first or final papers may be had from court clerk.

Children of a naturalized citizen who become residents of the United States during their minority are entitled to citizenship without being naturalized.

Aliens of the age of 21 years and upward, who have enlisted in the armies of the United States, in the regular or volunteer forces, and

A person otherwise qualified whose birthday is on the day following election is entitled to vote. A minor who has been convicted of felony and has served out his term during his minority is not entitled to vote on becoming of age. (See Eagle Library No. 132, pages 25, 29.)

To Raise the Assuan Dam.

The council of ministers, Cairo, Egypt, adopted the proposition, Mar. 21, 1907, to raise Assuan Dam sufficiently to increase the present maximum of water twenty feet. This will add 1,000,000 acres to the irrigated section of northern Egypt, increase the cotton $20,000,000 annually, take six years to complete and will cost $7,500,000.

INFORMATION FOR TAXPAYERS.

What property is liable to taxation—All real property within this State and all personal property situated or owned within the State is taxable unless exempt by law.

Assessments are made by the Deputy Tax Commissioners. They commence to assess real and personal property on first Tuesday of Sept. and complete their work before the second Monday of the following Jan. The State Tax Law directs that all property, real and personal, shall be assessed at its full value. The Charter of The City of New York requires the Deputy Tax Commissioners to assess and furnish the Board of Taxes and Assessments a detailed statement of all property, showing that said deputies have personally examined the same; also the sum for which said property, under ordinary circumstances, would sell.

When assessment books are open for inspection and correction—The annual records of the assessed valuation of real and personal property in each borough are open for public inspection, examination and correction from the second Monday of Jan. until the first day of April in each year.

Application for correction—Between the second Monday of Jan. and first day of April application may be made to have assessments corrected. Applications for correction of assessed valuation of real estate must be made in writing, stating ground of objection thereto. The Board of Taxes and Assessments examines into the complaints, and if the assessment is erroneous, it causes same to be corrected. Applicants for the correction of the assessed valuation of their personal estate are required to be examined under oath by a Commissioner of Taxes and Assessments, and if the Board determines the assessment to be erroneous it causes same to be corrected.

When assessed valuations may be increased or diminished—The Board of Taxes and Assessments may increase or diminish at any time before the first day of April the assessed valuation of any real or personal property as may be just and necessary for the equalization of taxation; but not increase such valuations after the books of annual record are open for correction and review except upon notice given to the individual or corporation affected by such increase, at least ten days before the 15th day of April, in each year.

The power to remit or reduce a tax—The Board of Tax Commissioners may remit or reduce, if found excessive, a tax imposed upon real or personal property.

Certiorari to review final determination—A certiorari to review or correct on the merits and final determination of the Board of Taxes and Assessments in regard to assessment of real or personal property may be begun at any time before first day of Nov. in the year in which the determination sought to be reviewed or corrected is made.

The certified assessment rolls must be completed and delivered to the Board of Aldermen on the first Monday of July. The corrected assessment rolls must be delivered by the Board of Aldermen to the Receiver of Taxes on or before Sept. 15. All taxes become liens on real estate affected on the first Monday of Oct. Taxes payable on the first Monday in Oct.

Directions as to payment of taxes—Persons applying for tax bills must state whether tax is on personal or real estate; before paying any tax bill it should be examined to see if it embraces all property on which it is intended to pay taxes, and that no mistake is made in the section or ward, block and lot numbers of real estate. Persons applying for tax bills should be careful to compare their deeds with the maps in the office of the Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments to see they have correct section or ward, block and lot number before making payment. Persons paying their taxes before Nov. 1 are allowed a discount of 6 per cent. per annum, computed from time of payment to Dec. 1. During the month of Nov. there is no rebate or no penalty. One per cent. is added to taxes unpaid on Dec. 1; after Jan. 1 unpaid taxes are charged interest at 7 per cent. from the first Monday in Oct. If personal taxes are not paid by Jan. 15 the receiver of taxes may issue his warrant to the Marshal for collection by distress and sale. Real estate taxes not paid June 1 are returned to the Bureau for the Collection of Arrears.

Personal Property Exemptions.

The term "personal property" includes all property other than real estate; for example: Household furniture, chattels, money, things in action, debts due from solvent debtors, whether on account, contract, note, bond or mortgage, debts and obligations for the payment of money due or owing to persons residing within the state, however secured, or wherever such securities shall be held, debts due by inhabitants of this state to persons residing within the United States for the purchase of real estate, public stocks, stocks in moneyed corporations, and such portion of the capital of incorporated companies liable to taxation on their capitals as shall not be invested in real estate.

Among the various classes of "personal property" exempt from taxation may be enumerated the following: Property exempted by constitution of State, of United States, or by act of the Legislature. All property contained in the buildings of any incorporated academy, seminary of learning, or of a religious or charitable character. All property exempt by law from execution other than an exempt homestead. (Articles enumerated in Sec. 1889 and 1890 of the Civil Code.) Professional instruments, furniture and library, not exceeding in value $250. The pay and bounty of a non-commissioned officer, musician or private in military or naval service of the U. S.; a land warrant, pension or other reward granted by the U. S. or by a State for military or naval services; a sword, horse, medal, emblem, device, etc. But if the pension funds have been embarked in business and mingled with other funds so as to be incapable of identification, they are not exempt either as personal property or in real property. If the claim is made that the same has been purchased therewith, only proportionately as such pension fund can be identified. The pensioner must also show that he or she is not only the owner, but the occupant of the premises claimed as exempt from taxation. Bonds of a municipal corporation issued for purpose of paying up or retiring indebtedness.

All vessels registered at any port in this state and owned by an American citizen or association, or by any corporation of this state, engaged in ocean commerce.

A bond, mortgage or note, contract, account or other demand belonging to any person not a resident of this State sent to or deposited in this State for collection; the products of another State owned by a non-resident and sent to his agent in this State for sale on commission; moneys of a non-resident of this State under the control or in the possession of his agent in this State.

Mortgages recorded since May 13, 1907, or on which a registration fee has been paid.

Savings bank deposits. The accumulation in any domestic life insurance corporation held for the exclusive benefit of the insured other than the real estate and stocks now liable for taxation. The accumulations of any incorporated co-operative loan association upon the shares of such association held by any person. Moneys collected by any association or casualty insurance on the co-operative plan. The owner or holder of stock when the company is liable to taxation on its capital. Stocks of city, State, charitable or literary institutions. United States securities. Trust funds in custody of non-resident trustees. Co-operative savings and loan associations. Foreign funds sent here for investment. Goods sent here to be sold from another State where the proceeds are for non-residents. But this does not include moneys, goods and chattels where a continuous business is being conducted. The point in this State of exceptions is whether such capital is used here as a continuous business, in which case exemption does not apply. Imported articles in original packages. But after such articles are sold by the importer or divided into smaller packages or quantities, by breaking up of casks, cases, packages, etc., in which they are imported, and thus destroying the character or import, which made them dutiable under U. S. laws, they are taxable as personal property to the owner or agent. Or, after sold, also taxable.

Testing Gas Meters.

The law creating the Public Service Commission of New York State requires that every meter furnished by a gas corporation shall be inspected, proved and sealed by an inspector of the commission. If the result of the test shows the meter to be 2 per cent. or more fast the customer gets his fee back from the company and is also entitled to a rebate on the bill rendered him.

Tests for ordinary tin meters used in measuring manufactured gas vary according to the light size of the meters as follows, the ordinary house meter being a five light size:

No. of lights.	Fee.	No. of lights.	Fee.
2	75	80	2.00
3	75	100	2.00
5	75	150	3.50
10	1.00	200	3.50
20	1.00	250	3.50

45	1.50	400	5.00
50	1.50	500	5.00
60	1.50

For testing iron meters used in measuring natural gas the charges are based upon the capacity of the meters and range from 75c. to $10.

SALVAGE CORPS.

The Salvage Corps of Greater New York are owned and maintained by the insurance companies of the city for the purpose of protecting life and property at and after fires. There are two separate organizations, one in Manhattan, called the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, and one in Brooklyn, called the Fire Insurance Salvage Corps of Brooklyn. Each organization has established stations equipped with fire alarms, which are connected with those of the City Fire Department, patrol wagons and other apparatus necessary for the prevention of the destruction of property by fire and water. Each station is supplied with a force of men to answer all fire alarms. By charter the Salvage Corps have the same right of way in the streets and same privileges in entering houses as the Fire Department.

The Prison Ship Martyrs Monument.

The cornerstone of the Monument was laid on the N. W. corner of Fort Greene Park, Oct. 26, 1907. The Monument is in commemoration of the martyrdom of American prisoners confined during the Revolution on the British prison ships in the Wallabout Basin. It is estimated that nearly 12,000 patriots died on the ships rather than join the British forces. The Monument cost $200,000 and was erected through the efforts of the Society of Old Brooklynites, the Martyrs' Monument Association and patriotic organizations. The U. S. Govt. contributed $100,000; New York City, $50,000; New York State, $25,000, and private subscription of $25,000. When completed the Monument will be 140 feet high from knoll of Fort Greene; 195 feet from street level, and 9 feet in diameter, surmounted by a bronze urn.

Commissioner of Jurors and Special Jurors.

Chap. 564, Laws of 1902, provides for the appointment of a commissioner of jurors and for a special jury in civil and criminal actions tried in Kings Co.

The Commissioner of Jurors shall select from persons qualified to serve as trial jurors in such county such number of special jurors as the justices of the Appellate Div. of the Supreme Court, or a majority of them, of the dept. in which such county is situated, shall from time to time direct.

Special jurors can now be had in civil and criminal cases. The District Attorney or the defendant, if in a criminal action, or either party in a civil action, may apply for a special jury. Application must be made at any term of the Supreme Court held within the county where such issue is triable or at a regular term of the court in which such issue is to be tried. Where, upon such application it appears to the court that by reason of the importance or intricacy of the case a special jury is required, or that the subject matter of the indictment or the issue to be tried has been so widely commented upon that the court is satisfied that an ordinary jury cannot, without delay and difficulty, be obtained to try such issue, or that for any other reason the impartial administration of justice in the particular case would be advanced by the trial of such issue by a special jury, the court direct that such trial be had by a special jury, and trial shall be had accordingly. The order must specify the time when the drawing of the special jury shall take place, and the number of special jurors to be then drawn, the term of the court and the particular day in the term when such special jury must attend. At the time specified in the order the special jury shall be drawn at the office of the Commissioner of Jurors by the Commissioner or his deputy, and a judge or justice of a court of record residing in the department in which such special jury is to be drawn. A minute of the drawing must be kept by Commissioner of Jurors or his deputy, which must be entitled in the action in which the jury is to serve, specifying the term of court and particular day in the term when special jurors drawn must attend; there must be entered thereon the name of each juror drawn. This minute must be signed by the judge or justice and by the Commissioner of Jurors or his deputy, present at the drawing, and such minute so signed must be filed in office of the County Clerk of the said county. The object of the law is to get a competent class of jurors for cases demanding such.

By Chap. 600, Laws of 1901, the Justices of the Supreme Court residing in Kings Co., or a majority of them, may require the Commissioner of Jurors to scrutinize and revise the general panel or list of trial jurors for the county under their supervision and direction. For that purpose the Commissioner of Jurors has power to summon before him by subpoena each and every person on the same general panel or list for the year and in each year, and make inquiries and examine him as to his competency and qualifications to serve as a trial juror, with power to reject and take off the said general panel or list such persons as are not competent or qualified, or are not to be found. If the person so summoned fails to attend except for physical disability, or if he refuse to be sworn or answer any pertinent question by said Commissioner of Jurors, he may be punished therefor by any trial justice of the Supreme Court sitting in such county. Every person so summoned must present any exemption from jury service which he has or claims, and if he fails to do so he shall be deemed to have waived the same and cannot be excused therefor thereafter except by a court or judge, except for infancy, alienage, bad character, lack of ordinary intelligence and inability to read and write the English language understandingly.

GRAND JURORS IN KINGS COUNTY.

Chap. 257, Laws 1904, provides that the Commissioner of Jurors in Kings Co. shall annually on the third Monday of June and as often as required, submit the list of all persons duly qualified to act as jurors and not exempt by law to a board consisting of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the 2d Judicial Dist., residents of Kings Co., and the County Judges of the County Court of Kings Co. The said board within 5 days shall select from above list not less than 600 nor more than 1,000 persons to serve as grand jurors. The list so made out shall be signed by the Chairman of the Board, certified by the Secretary and shall be filed in the offices of the County Clerk and Commissioner of Jurors.

MUNICIPAL COURT JURORS.

(Sec. 233, Municipal Court Act.) A list of trial jurors for each district of the Municipal Court of the City of New York must be selected by the Commissioner of Jurors or other officer whose duty it is by law to select jurors in each of the counties included within New York City, and must be selected for each of said districts by said officer in whose county the said district is situated, and must consist of 500 jurors for each district. Each juror so selected shall be exempt from jury duty in every other court. A person shall not be placed upon such a list who does not reside or have a place where he regularly transacts his business in person within the district for which he is selected.

CITY OF NEW YORK MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

THE CHARTER OF NEW YORK CITY.

The charter of the City of New York, as revised by Legislature of 1901, going into effect Jan. 1, 1902, is a development of the charters of the former cities of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City, differing from all of them, however, by the introduction of the principle of local control over local affairs. In this feature the charter provides a system of government more nearly like that of London and continental cities. The original charter of the City of New Amsterdam was granted by the Dutch Government in 1653. Twelve years later, under English control, Gov. Nicolls granted a charter to "His Majesty's town of New York," substituting for the Schout, Burgomasters and Schepens of the Dutch government, Mayor, Aldermen and Sheriff.

The subsequent colonial charters, known by the names of Governors Dongan, Cornbury and Montgomerie, were granted respectively by them under King James in 1686, Queen Anne in 1708 and King George II in 1760. The last named charter was confirmed by act of General Assembly of the colony in 1732. The original State constitution, and subsequent ones, have reaffirmed all the rights of the city granted previous to 1775. The first complete charter from the State was granted in 1813, and in 1830, and again, in 1873, revised charters were passed. In 1882 the Consolidation act, embodying a complete revision of the New York City Charter, was passed, and remained in force until the beginning of the year 1898.

The charter provided for the city at the time of consolidation remained in force, with minor amendments, until Jan. 1, 1902, when the charter now in force and which was prepared by a legislative commission of which Geo. L. Rives was chairman, with the view of correcting mistakes in the first Greater New York Charter, went into effect.

The original incorporation of Brooklyn as a village was affected by legislative action in 1816. This act was repealed and a new one passed in 1827. The first charter of Brooklyn as a city was enacted in 1834. This charter was revised in 1850, and in 1854 a new charter, consolidating the cities of Brooklyn and Williamsburg, was adopted. This charter was revised in 1873, and again in 1888. The last revision was in force until the independent existence of the municipality ended with the year 1897. The first charter of Long Island City was enacted in 1870 and a new one granted in 1871.

The amended Greater New York Charter follows, in the main, the lines of the charter of the old City of New York, with important provisions adapted from the Brooklyn charter and from those of other American and European cities. The greater part of it is the law as it has existed for half a century, and the chief change has been made necessary by the adoption of the borough system and the system of giving control to localities over their own affairs.

The charter is the government instrument for the territory embraced within the new limits of New York, comprising the former City of New York, on Manhattan Island, and in Westchester County, the former City of Brooklyn, coterminous with the County of Kings, the entire County of Richmond and the portion of Queens County included in Long Island City, the towns of Newtown, Jamaica and Flushing, and a part of the town of Hempstead. This territory is divided into these five boroughs: Manhattan, comprising Manhattan and the adjacent smaller islands, the Bronx, including the part of the former City of New York in Westchester County north of Harlem River and Spuyten Duyvil Creek, and the islands adjacent; Brooklyn, comprising all of Kings County; Queens, including part of Queens County named in the act of annexation revised by Legislature of 1899; and Richmond, which consists of the county of that name, including the whole of Staten Island.

THE MAYOR.

The executive power of the city is vested in the Mayor, the Presidents of the Boroughs and the officers of the departments. The Mayor is the chief executive officer and he is a magistrate. His term begins at noon on the first day of January after his election and continues for four years. He is eligible for re-election. The salary of the office is $15,000 per year. The Mayor appoints the heads of departments and commissioners, except those over which the Presidents of the Boroughs have jurisdiction, and except, also, the head of the Department of Finance. He can remove at any time any official appointed by him, except the members of the Board of Education and Aqueduct Commissioners, trustees of the College of the City of New York and trustees of some hospitals, and certain judicial officers. He himself can be removed from office by the Governor, after a hearing, upon charges.

His duties are to communicate to the Board of Aldermen, at least once a year, a statement of the finances, government and improvements of the city; to recommend to the same body such measures as he deems expedient; to keep himself informed of the work of all departments, and to be vigilant in enforcing ordinances and the laws of the State. Every three months he must report to the Board of Aldermen the expenses and receipts of his office, stating the salaries paid to and the nature of the duties of his clerks and subordinates, whom he has the power to appoint. The Mayor has the power of veto over all ordinances and resolutions of the Board of Aldermen, but if he does not disapprove they become laws after a lapse of ten days.

An ordinance or resolution can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the Board of Aldermen, except that when it involves the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt, or the laying of an assessment, a three-fourths vote is required. The Mayor countersigns all warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the Chamberlain for payments on behalf of the corporation. He has also to sign all bonds, together with the Comptroller. In the absence or sickness of the Mayor the President of the Board of Aldermen is the Acting Mayor. He shall not appoint to, or remove from, office any official, unless the absence or sickness of the Mayor continues thirty days, nor shall he approve or disapprove any resolution or ordinance unless such absence or sickness continues nine days.

OFFICES OF BOROUGH PRESIDENTS

The Presidents of the Boroughs hold office for a term of four years. They have offices in the Borough Halls of their respective boroughs and are ex-officio members of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. In that board the Presidents of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn have two votes each and the Presidents of the other boroughs one vote each. The President of the Borough presides over each local board in his borough. He has the right to vote on and of veto over the action of any local board. Each Borough President is a member of the Board of Aldermen and has the same right to vote as any member elected to the Board of Aldermen. The Borough President may appoint and at pleasure remove a Commissioner of Public Works for his borough, who may discharge all the administrative power of the President of the Borough relating to streets, sewers, public buildings and supplies, and who shall in the absence or illness of such president discharge the duties of such president. The President of the Borough has cognizance and control of all matters relating to the improvement and repair of streets and sewers. He has control of the public buildings within his borough, except schools, hospitals, fire and police stations, penitentiaries, etc. He is empowered to exercise the supervision vested in the city over the construction of buildings in his borough, except such powers as are directly vested in the Tenement House Commission, and to that end he is authorized to appoint a Superintendent of Buildings. In the Boroughs of Richmond and Queens the Presidents of the Boroughs, in addition to their other powers, have jurisdiction over the cleaning of streets and the removal of ashes and garbage. The Secretary of the President is Secretary of the local boards, appointed by the presidents.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The legislative power of the City of New York is vested in the Board of Aldermen, consisting of 73 members elected from that number of aldermanic districts, of the President of the Board and the Presidents of the Boroughs. They are elected for a term of two years. The aldermen elected to the board are paid two thousand dollars per year and the president of the board is paid five thousand dollars per year, and is elected on a general ticket by the voters of the city. Each head of an administrative department of the city is entitled to a seat in the Board of Aldermen, and shall attend its meetings when required by the board. He is required also to answer any questions put to him by any member relating to the affairs of his department, providing he is given forty-eight hours' notice that such a question is to be put. He is given a right to partake in the discussion of the board, but no right to vote. No member elected to the Board of Aldermen is eligible to any other office under the city during the term for which he was elected. The board is required to meet at least once a month, except during the months of August and September. Resolutions and ordinances of the board must be passed by a vote of a majority of the members of the board. It cannot authorize the expenditure of any money for any celebration, procession, funeral, reception or entertainment, except by a vote of four-fifths of its membership. If a resolution or ordinance of the Board of Aldermen is vetoed by the Mayor, it can be repassed only by a two-thirds vote; provided that in case the ordinance or resolution involves the expenditure of money, the collection of a debt, or the levying of an assessment a three-fourths vote is required. The Board of Aldermen is required to act within six weeks upon certain resolutions or votes of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment relative to the creation of a debt by the issue of bonds, the granting of a franchise and the right to use the streets, avenues, water works or highways of the city. If a majority of the Board of Aldermen vote against any such proposition, it is deemed as rejected. If a majority does not vote against such proposition within the six weeks specified, the proposition is regarded as having passed by the requisite vote of the board. The Board of Aldermen is authorized to fix salaries of all city employes other than day laborers, teachers, examiners and members of the supervising staff of the Board of Education. Such action, however, can only be taken upon the recommendation of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and the Board of Aldermen cannot increase any salary recommended by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, but may decrease any salary recommended. In case, however, of the board voting to reduce any salary, the Mayor may veto such action.

THE LOCAL BOARDS.

The districts of local improvements in the entire city are numbered 1 to 25, and each in addition is given a name by which it will be known. (See next column.) The President of the Borough as chairman and the Alderman residing in each local improvement district constitute the local board. The local boards are empowered to initiate such improvements as grading and paving streets and constructing sewers, subject to the approval of the Board of Estimate, if they involve an assessment. If the improvement involves a cost of more than five hundred thousand dollars, it must be approved by the Board of Aldermen. When the cost of flagging sidewalks, grading lots or fencing lots is less than one thousand dollars, the approval of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is not necessary, and it then becomes the duty of the Borough President to execute the work. In all other matters resolutions of the local boards must be approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and in some instances by the Board of Aldermen also, and when so approved the resolution of approval is transmitted to the Borough President, who then directs the execution of the work. The local boards are also authorized to hear complaints of nuisances in streets or against disorderly houses, drinking saloons conducted without the observance of licenses, gambling houses or other matters concerning the peace or good government, and concerning the condition of the poor within their respective districts. In such matters they are empowered to pass such resolutions as may not be inconsistent with the powers of the Board of Aldermen or with the respective administrative powers of the City of New York.

HOW TO OBTAIN LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS.

All petitions for local improvements should be addressed to the President of the Borough for presentation in the Local Board having jurisdiction. Petitions for original improvements such as grading and paving and the construction of sewers and for the opening of streets, should be signed by at least two persons. If the Local Board, after hearing, approves any proposed original improvement, it forwards a proper resolution to the Board of Aldermen, if required, and when that board approves, the result of its action is transmitted to the Borough President, who then executes the work. Assessments on such improvements are not levied until after the work is completed, and the city loans its credit for doing the work by issuing assessment bonds. When the work is finished and assessments levied, 7 per cent. interest is charged until paid.

Repaying is done at the expense of the city at large, unless a majority of property owners by petition offer to bear a part or all of the expense.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Stewart Building, Chambers st. and Broadway, Manhattan.

The Comptroller of New York City is head of the Department of Finance, which has control of the fiscal affairs of the corporation. His term of office is four years from noon on the first day of January succeeding his election. He may be removed from office by the Governor upon charges and a hearing. Any vacancy in the office is to be filled by the Mayor. The salary of the office is $15,000 a year. The Comptroller is ex-officio a member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, Aqueduct Commission, Board of City Record, Bank Commission, Board of Revision of Assessment, and the Sinking Fund Commission. He has power to appoint two deputies, who shall have all the powers and duties of the Comptroller for a period not exceeding three months whenever so designated in writing by the Comptroller. He also appoints the heads of all Bureaus and Divisions of the Department of Finance, except the Chamberlain. There is another bureau in the Comptroller's office for the reception and safe keeping of all moneys paid into the treasury and for payment of money on warrants drawn by Comptroller and countersigned by the Mayor. At the head of this is the Chamberlain, but he is appointed by the Mayor and serves during the pleasure of the Mayor. He gives a bond for $30,000 and receives a salary of $12,000 a year. The receiver of taxes and collector of assessments and arrears each gives a bond of $25,000, to be approved by the Comptroller and City Chamberlain. Each has his chief office in Manhattan and a branch office in each of the other boroughs, where taxes and assessments in that borough are payable. The Comptroller is authorized to advertise for proposals for purchase of bonds and stocks of the city. All bonds issued after Jan. 1, 1898, except assessment and revenue bonds, shall be known as "corporate stock of the City of New York." For its redemption and payment the faith and credit of the city are pledged. The form of same shall be designated by the Comptroller and signed by him and the Mayor, sealed with the city's seal and attested by the City Clerk. In coupon form the stock shall be in sums not less than $500 each share, or it may be registered, and it shall be redeemable in not less than ten nor more than fifty years after date, to be paid in gold coin or in the legal currency of the United States, at the option of Commissioners of the Sinking Fund. Bonds may be issued in registered form in denominations of $10 or any multiple thereof. Revenue bonds, to be redeemed from the proceeds of the tax levy, may be issued to meet expenditures under the appropriations of each current year. Special revenue bonds may be issued for certain specified purposes. When authorized by Board of Estimate and Apportionment, Comptroller can issue assessment bonds to meet expenses incurred in regulating and paving streets, building sewers and all other work done by contract, the cost to be met by assessments in whole or in part upon the property benefited. The Comptroller shall have sole charge of the Wallabout Market. He shall publish in the City Record within two months after the close of each calendar year a full and detailed statement of receipts and expenditures of the corporation the preceding year and the cash balance.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

Secretary's Office, 277 B'way, Mhnt.

The Board of Estimate and Apportionment consists of the Mayor, Comptroller, President of the Board of Aldermen and Presidents of the Boroughs. The Mayor, Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen have three votes each; the Presidents of the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn, two votes each, and the Presidents of the other Boroughs one vote each. Between the 1st day of Oct. and the 1st day of Nov. the Board of Estimate and Apportionment prepares a budget of the amounts estimated to be required to pay the expenses of the city during the coming year. When such budget is prepared it is submitted to the Board of Aldermen, which may decrease any appropriations, but may not increase any appropriation. In case of a decrease of an appropriation by the Board of Aldermen, such action is reviewable by the Mayor, and if he vetoes such action, it can be overridden only by a three-fourths vote of the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Estimate also succeeds to all the powers of the Board of Public Improvements not transferred to the Presidents of the Boroughs or other officials. In important instances the Board of Estimate and Apportionment may issue bonds for public improvements without the concurrence of the Board of Aldermen. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment also has charge of the granting of franchises, which was formerly in the Board of Aldermen.

HOW TO OBTAIN TRADE MARKS.

Application, Registration and Fees.

A trade mark may be registered by any person, firm or corporation in the United States or located in any foreign country which, by treaty, convention or law, affords similar privileges to citizens of the United States, and who is entitled to the exclusive use of any trade mark and uses the same in commerce with foreign nations or with Indian tribes.

An application for the registration of a trade mark must be made to the commissioner of patents, and must be signed by the owner of the trade mark.

All applications for registration are considered in the first instance by the trade mark examiner. Whenever, on examination of an application, registration is refused for any reason, the applicant will be notified thereof.

On filing an application for registration of a trade mark, $25 must be paid; for manuscript copies, for every 100 words or fraction thereof, 10 cents; for recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney, or other paper of 300 words or less, $1; for recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney or other paper of more than 300 words, and less than 1,000 words, $2; for recording every assignment, agreement, power of attorney or other paper of more than 1,000 words, $3; for certificate of search, $1; for each brief from the digest of assignments, 20 cents; for assistance to attorneys and others in the examination of records, an hour or less, 50 cents; each additional hour or fraction thereof, 50 cents; for single printed copy of statement, declaration and fac simile, 5 cents; if certified, for the grant, additional, 50 cents; for the certificate, 25 cents. If the applicant be a corporation it must be specified under the laws of what State or nation incorporated.

There must be a drawing made with India ink alone, on pure white paper, the thickness of three sheets of Bristol board, and containing a calendared and smooth surface. All drawings must be made with pen only and every line and letter, signature and shading must be absolutely black. The size of the sheet must be exactly 10x15 inches, and there must be an inch margin on each side, leaving the "sight" exactly 8x13 inches. When the view is longer than the width of the sheet, it may be turned on its side, while the signature of the proprietor of the trade mark must be placed at the lower right hand corner and the signature of the witnesses at the lower left hand corner, but, in no instance, shall they encroach upon the drawings. Drawings must be rolled for transmission to the Patent Office—not folded.

The governments with which conventions for the reciprocal registration and protection of trade marks have been entered into by the United States are: Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Brazil, Denmark, France Germany, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, Netherlands, Russia, Servia, Spain and Switzerland.

HALL OF FAME.

In March, 1900, Chancellor MacCracken, of New York University, announced that $250,000 had been given that institution for a Hall of Fame of great Americans. The conditions were that 50 names might be chosen in 1900 and 5 more each succeeding 5 years through the twentieth century. No person should be eligible who was not born in what is now the territory of the United States and who had not been dead for 10 years when his or her name was chosen. The Senate of the University received suggestions for the first 50 places until May. Then 100 electors from all of the 45 States were asked to complete the roll of nominations and to indicate each one his choice of 50 names. No name was eligible which did not receive 51 votes from this board. Upon Oct. 1, 1900, 97 judges having voted, it appeared that 23 names had received a majority of 51 votes. These were approved by the Senate (which has the power of veto), the number of votes for each being as follows: George Washington, 97; Abraham Lincoln, 96; Daniel Webster, 96; Benjamin Franklin, 94; Ulysses S. Grant, 93; John Marshall, 91; Thomas Jefferson, 91; Ralph Waldo Emerson, 87; Robert Fulton, 86; Henry W. Longfellow, 85; Washington Irving, 83; Jonathan Edwards, 82; Samuel F. B. Morse, 82; David G. Farragut, 79; Henry Clay, 74; Nathaniel Hawthorne, 73; George Peabody, 74; Peter Cooper, 69; Robert E. Lee, 68; Eli Whitney, 69; John J. Audubon, 67; Horace Mann, 67; Henry Ward Beecher, 64; James Kent, 63; Joseph Story, 64; John Adams, 62; Wm. E. Channing, 58; Gilbert Stuart, 52; Asa Gray, 51.

In Oct., 1905, under the rules named above, the Senate received the ballots of 95 electors out of 101 appointed, of whom only 85 undertook to consider the names of women. A majority of 51 was demanded, but in the case of the names of women a majority of only 47. The following persons were found to be duly chosen: John Q. Adams, 60; James R. Lowell, 59; Wm. T. Sherman, 58; James Madison, 56; John G. Whittier, 53; Alex. Hamilton, 58; Louis Agassiz, 53; John P. Jones, 55; Mary Lyon, 59; Emma Willard, 50; Maria Mitchell, 48.

A bronze tablet for each of these 11 names was unveiled on Decoration Day, 1907, and a bronze bust of Horace Mann placed upon the parapet over his tablet, with orations by Gov. Hughes, Gov. Gullard and the representatives of various patriotic and literary societies.

The Hall of Fame is a semi-circular edifice, chiefly of granite, which connects two of the University buildings at University Heights, and comprises a museum of seven rooms on the ground floor and a colonnade above over 400 feet in length. In Feb., 1904, the plan was announced of an additional structure in the form of a loggia, joining the colonnade on the north, having 30 panels for foreign-born Americans, six to be filled in 1905, and beyond this of a Hall of Fame for women, about 30 by 60 feet, with a museum on the ground floor and a main story above of 28 columns, supporting a pedimented roof, with places for 60 tablets, 16 to be filled in 1905. The Hall was dedicated May 30, 1901, when 25 or more national associations each unveiled one of the bronze tablets in the colonnade, after the oration by Senator C. M. Depew.

To reach Hall of Fame, take either (1) Subway Kingsbridge Express to 181st, with transfer to Aqueduct av. trolley direct to University Campus; (2) N. Y. C. R. R. to University Heights station; (3) N. Y. Putnam R. R. at 155th and 6th av. 'L' station to station named above. Climb hill to Hall of Fame. (4) Trolley on Viaduct at 155th via Sedgwick and Aqueduct avs. to University Campus; (5) Third Av. 'L' and transfer to trolley on Tremont av. to Burnside and Aqueduct avs., nr. Campus.

Stadium for Olympics.

The Olympic games, 1908, will be started the second Saturday of July and continue three weeks in London under the auspices of an English committee. The site is at Shepherd's Bush and covers a space of 1,000 by 700 feet, with a cycling track, 2½ laps to the mile; a running track, 3 laps to the mile; a swimming tank, 330 feet long, from 4 to 14 feet deep, for swimming and diving competitions. The turf measures about 700 by 300 feet and will be used for football, lacrosse, gymnastics, hockey, wrestling, etc. The seats and stands are in amphitheater form and will hold 80,000 spectators. The space under the seats will contain dressing accommodations for twenty-five nations, and a "sportsman's promenade," extending over 5,000 feet in length. The whole building is estimated to cost over $225,000.

UNITED STATES NAVAL AND MILITARY ACADEMIES.

Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

The students of the Naval Academy are styled midshipmen. Two are allowed for each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress, two for District of Columbia and five each year from United States at large. The appointments from District of Columbia and five each at large are made by the President. One is allowed from Porto Rico, who must be a native of that island. The appointment is made by the President on recommendation of the Gov. of Porto Rico. The Congressional appointments are equitably distributed, so that in regular course each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress may appoint one during each Congress. After June 30, 1913, each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress will be allowed to appoint but one midshipman instead of two.

The course for midshipmen is 6 years—4 at the Academy and 2 years at sea, at the expiration of which time examination for final graduation takes place.

Certificates from colleges and high schools will not be accepted in lieu of the entrance examinations at the Naval Academy; all candidates must take the prescribed mental and physical examination before being admitted.

Midshipmen who pass the examination for final graduation are appointed to fill vacancies in the lower grades of the line of the Navy and of the Marine Corps in order of merit.

"The Sec. of the Navy shall as soon as practicable after the 5th day of March in each year notify in writing each Senator, Representative and Delegate in Congress of any vacancy which may be regarded as existing in the State, District or Territory which he represents, and the nomination of a candidate to fill such vacancy shall be made upon the recommendation of the Senator, Representative or Delegate. Such recommendation shall be made by June 1 of that year, and if not so made the Sec. of the Navy shall fill the vacancy by the appointment of an actual resident of the State, District or Territory in which the vacancy exists, who shall have been for at least 2 years immediately preceding his appointment an actual bona fide resident of the State, District or Territory in which the vacancy exists, and shall have the qualifications otherwise prescribed by law. And provided further, that the Supt. of the Naval Academy shall make such rules, to be approved by the Sec. of the Navy, as will effectually prevent the practice of hazing; and any cadet found guilty of participating in or encouraging or countenancing such practice shall be summarily expelled from the Academy, and shall not thereafter be reappointed to the Corps of Cadets or be eligible for appointment as a commissioned officer in the Army or Navy or Marine Corps until 2 years after the graduation of the class of which he was a member."—(Act approved March 4, 1903.)

There are two preparatory schools in Annapolis for candidates for entrance into the U. S. Naval Academy—one conducted by Prof. J. R. Wilmer, the other by Prof. R. L. Wertz, both of Annapolis.

Candidates allowed for Congressional Districts, for Territories and for the District of Columbia must be actual residents of the Districts or Territories, respectively, from which they are nominated. All candidates must, at the time of their examination for admission, be between the ages of 16 and 20 years. A candidate is eligible for appointment on the day he becomes 16 and is ineligible on the day he becomes 20 yrs. of age. The pay of a midshipman is $500 a year, commencing at admission. Supt., Rear Admiral Jas. H. Sands, Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

Each Congressional district and Territory—the District of Columbia and also Porto Rico—is entitled to have one cadet at the Academy. Each State is also entitled to have two cadets from the State at large, and 40 are allowed from the U. S. at large. The appointment from a Congressional district is made upon the recommendation of the Congressman from that district, and those from a State at large upon the recommendations of the Senators of the State. Similarly the appointment from a Territory is made upon the recommendation of the delegate in Congress. Each person appointed must be an actual resident of the State, district or territory from which the appointment is made. The appointments from the U. S. at large, from the District of Columbia and for Porto Rico are made by the President of the U. S. upon his own selection. The appointment of the cadet from Porto Rico is made by the President on the recommendation of the resident commissioner. Applications may be made at any time, by letter to the Adjutant General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., to have the name of the applicant placed upon the register that it may be furnished to the proper Senator, Representative or delegate, when a vacancy occurs. The application must exhibit the full name, date of birth and permanent abode of the applicant, with the number of the Congressional district in which his residence is situated. Appointments are required by law to be made one year in advance of the date of admission, except in cases where, by reason of death or other cause, a vacancy occurs which cannot be provided for by such appointment in advance. These vacancies are filled in time for the next examination. For each candidate appointed there may be nominated two alternates. The principal and each alternate will receive from the War Dept. a letter of appointment, and must appear for examination at the time and place therein designated; those previously accepted by Academic Board on certificate or mentally qualified, appearing for physical examination only, should the principal and alternates not qualify for admission they will still be entitled to appear for the examination, but if the principal fails to appear for that examination, or, appearing, fails to qualify, then the qualifications of the alternates will be considered, and if only one has met the requirements he will be admitted; if both alternates have met the requirements, the better qualified will be admitted. Immediately after reporting to the Supt. for admission, the candidate must sign an engagement for service for 8 years, unless sooner discharged by proper authority. He shall also swear to support the Constitution of the U. S. and bear true allegiance to the National Govt.

Any cadet who has gone through all the classes may be commissioned as second lieutenant in any corps in which there may be a vacancy. Pending such vacancy, the President, at his discretion, may cause such promotion, subject to the usual pay and allowances.

The alternates, like the principal, should be designated as nearly one year in advance of the date of admission as possible. Candidates selected for appointment shall appear for mental and physical examination before boards of army officers to be convened at such places as the War Department may select, on the first of May, annually, except when that day comes on a Sunday, in which case the examination shall commence on the following Tuesday. Candidates who pass successfully will be admitted to the Academy without further examination upon reporting in person to the Supt. at West Point before 12 o'clock noon the 15th day of June of the same year.

No appointed candidate shall be admitted who is under 17 or over 22 yrs. of age, or who is deformed or afflicted with any disease or infirmity which would render him unfit for the military service, or who has, at the time of presenting himself, any disorder of an infectious or immoral character. Accepted candidates, if bet. 17 and 18 yrs. of age, should not fall below 5 ft. 3 in. in height and 100 lbs. in weight; if bet. 18 and 19 yrs., 5 ft. 3½ in. in height and 105 lbs in weight; if over 19, 5 ft. 4 in. in height and 110 lbs. in weight. Candidates must be unmarried. Each candidate must, on reporting at West Point, present a certificate showing successful vaccination within 1 yr.; or a certificate of two vaccinations, made at least a month apart, within 3 months.

On Aug. 15, 1903, the system of military control in the Army was reorganized under the provisions of the General Staff Act, approved Feb. 14, 1903. This act abolished the separate office of General Commanding the Army, provided for a military Chief of Staff to the President, who, acting under the directions of the President, or of the Secretary of War representing him, should have supervision not only of all troops of the line, but of the special staff and supply departments which had theretofore reported directly to the Secretary of War; and it created for the assistance of the Chief of Staff a corps of 44 officers, who were relieved from all other duties. The function of this new corps is described by the statute in the following words:

Sec. 2. That the duties of the General Staff Corps shall be to prepare plans for the national defense and for the mobilization of the military forces in time of war; to investigate and report upon all questions affecting the efficiency of the Army and its state of preparation for military operations; to render professional aid and assistance to the Secretary of War and to general officers and other superior commanders, and to act as their agents in informing and co-ordinating the action of all the different officers who are subject, under the terms of this act, to the supervision of the Chief of Staff, and to perform such other military duties not otherwise assigned by law as may be from time to time prescribed by the President.

REMARKS.

All officers below rank of rear-admiral or brigadier-general are entitled to 10 per cent. upon full yearly pay of their grades for every period of 5 years service as increase for length of service, or "longevity pay," computed upon actual service in Army, Navy and Marine Corps; provided the total amount of increase shall not exceed 40 per cent. upon full yearly pay of the grade; also that pay of a captain in the Navy or colonel of Marines shall not exceed $4,500 per annum, and of a commander in the Navy or lieutenant-col. of Marines $4,000 per annum. Officers of the line—Medical and Pay Corps of the Navy retired prior to passage of act approved March 3, 1899, receive same pay on retired list that they received before passage of said act. Those retired subsequently receive 75 per cent. of pay (salary and increase) of their rank. During a period of 12 years from June 7, 1900, any officer on retired list may be ordered to such duty as he may be able to perform, and shall receive pay of an officer of active list.

Allowances—The monthly commutation allowance for quarters of the Admiral of the Navy is $125. All other commissioned officers of the line and Medical and Pay Corps of the Navy, and officers of Marine Corps receive same allowances, except forage to naval officers, as are or may be provided by law for the officers of corresponding rank in the Army. When quarters in kind are not supplied, commutation is allowed at the rate of $12 month per room.

Boatswains, gunners, carpenters, sailmakers, warrant machinists, pharmacists and mates receive the same commutation for quarters as second lieutenants of the Marine Corps.

The pay of officers serving on shore in Cuba, Philippine Islands and Alaska is increased 10 per cent. of the pay proper, exclusive of longevity additions, and pay of enlisted men of the Marine Corps serving on shore in those places is increased 20 per cent. above regular rates of pay exclusive of longevity additions, to be computed from and including May 26, 1900.

UNITED STATES REVENUE CUTTER SERVICE.

The Revenue Cutter Service was founded by Alexander Hamilton in 1790, several years prior to the establishment of the regular Navy. It is under the Treasury Department. It enforces the navigation, customs, quarantine and neutrality laws of the United States. Its vessels patrol the coasts in winter and lend aid to vessels in distress. In war the service becomes a part of the naval establishment. Its officers are on an equal footing, in rank and pay, with officers of the Army and Navy. Appointments to cadetships are made after competitive examinations conducted by boards of commissioned officers of the Revenue Cutter Service. Cadets are educated at the School of Instruction at South Baltimore, Md. The course covers three years and embraces professional and academic subjects. Candidates for cadetships must be not less than 18, nor more than 24 years of age, citizens of the United States and unmarried. A class of cadets is appointed each year.

Engineer officers are appointed direct from civil life, and the vacancies are open to those who have received a technical training in engineering. Successful candidates serve for 6 months as cadet-engineer before being commissioned. The age limits for the engineer corps are 21 to 26 years. This branch of the government is under the charge of a captain detailed by the Sec. of the Treasury as Chief of Division of Revenue Cutter Service. Captain Worth G. Ross is the present incumbent. Headquarters are at the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C. Following is a list of vessels in the service, their class, guns and stations:

In the Service are 258 commissioned officers and cadets on the active list, and 1,500 petty officers and enlisted men. The officers are: 37 captains; 37 1st lieutenants; 37 2d lieutenants; 37 3d lieutenants; 32 cadets of the line; 34 chief engineers; 17 1st assistant engineers; 19 2d assistant engineers; 5 cadet engineers; 2 constructors and 1 surgeon.

BROOKLYN NAVY YARD.

The Brooklyn Navy Yard was established Feb. 23, 1801, when the first land, 23 acres, was bought from John Jackson for $40,000. It now comprises 144 acres, situated on Wallabout Channel of the East River, and has a water front of nearly 3 miles. The main entrance is at Sands and Navy sts., and was opened in 1896. The water front of the Navy Yard is protected by a sea wall of granite about 3 miles in length.

The ship of the line "Ohio" was the first vessel built in this yard. In 1815 the "Fulton," the first steam war vessel, was built at the yard after plans prepared by Robert Fulton.

The Navy Yard is open daily, except Sundays and holidays, from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M., when any one may enter and inspect the place. Passes to visit the yard are not necessary, but can be obtained by letter, addressed to the "Captain of the Yard." Permission to visit the ships must be obtained from their commanding officers. A pass is necessary on Sundays and holidays.

MOVING OLD MONTAUK THEATRE.

The colossal undertaking of moving the old Montauk Theatre—which, with its site, was bought by the city to make way for the Flatbush av. extension, for $500,000, and the building resold for $11,700—300 feet from its site on DeKalb av. to a new site facing on Flatbush av. extension, with rear on Hudson av., was commenced early in August, 1907, and successfully completed Nov. 16, 1907. The building, a massive structure of brick and iron, stripped, ready for moving, weighed 8,500 tons, was 95 feet in height, was turned half way round and moved along the course of an 85-degree angle. The moving contractors were Iversen, Gustafson & Co., the contract price $75,000, and the owners the DeKalb Company.

FINANCIAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR 1907.

The year 1907 was made memorable by one of the great panics in the nation's history, comparable only with 1853, 1854, 1873, 1874 and 1893. Panicky conditions were reflected in an enormous shrinkage in security values. The course of the stock market is portrayed in the average price of representative stocks: Early in Jan. the average of railroad stocks went to 131.95. By mid-November the average was down to 81.41, the lowest since the year 1900. The average price of industrials also reached its high level of 94.35 in Jan., but dropped in Nov. to 53, the lowest level since 1904.

Although the stock market experienced a panic in March and a milder collapse in Aug., the worst panic of the year occurred in Oct., with its effects continuing throughout the early part of Nov. Although N. Y. was the storm center, it soon overwhelmed the entire country, caused numerous suspensions of banks and other financial institutions and many business failures and banking "runs" in practically every center. It also compelled the N. Y. Clearing House to issue loan certificates, a policy which was followed by all Clearing Houses in the country. Money rates went to the high level of the year; there was widespread lack of confidence in banking institutions; a deadlock in time money loans and commercial paper, and domestic exchange was so disarranged that general commerce was severely checked. Banks refused to pay checks in cash, or only for small amounts, and there was what was practically a general suspension of cash payments. A premium on currency ruled from the end of Oct. into the latter part of Dec. The premium went as high as 5%, the first time a currency premium had ruled since the 1893 panic.

The Oct. collapse dated from an unsuccessful effort to corner United Copper stock on the curb. This was engineered by F. A. Heinze, and the drop in the stock caused the failure of two Stock Exchange firms concerned in the deal. The Mercantile Nat. Bank, of which Heinze was president, had to ask Clearing House aid. There were rumors that Heinze's allies, Morse and Thomas, were involved, and that the chain of banking institutions controlled by these interests were in difficulties. The Clearing House gave aid required and forced the resignations of the entire Heinze-Morse-Thomas clique from every banking institution. It was also announced that the banks under criticism were solvent.

The feeling of relief and a sharp recovery in prices after these announcements proved only temporary, for on Monday, Oct. 21, the public took a hand. The Clearing House action and publicity given to it aroused general distrust. Rumors that things were not right with the trust companies, following announcement that the Clearing House privileges of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. had been withdrawn, caused a run on the Knickerbocker, which followed the runs on the Heinze-Morse-Thomas banks, and President Barney of the Knickerbocker resigned. After paying out some $8,000,000 the Knickerbocker closed its doors. This news caused a panicky stock market break, with losses of 2 to 10 points, and a rise in call money to 70%.

Prompt efforts were made by leading interests to allay the growing excitement. A series of conferences were begun that lasted almost continuously for the next ten days. J. P. Morgan was placed in command, and J. D. Rockefeller, E. H. Harriman and other big interests came to the rescue. Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou came to N. Y. and deposited some $25,000,000 of government money in the banks. There was no let-up in the banking runs and the Trust Company of America, the largest in the country, with deposits of nearly $70,000,000, became the main target. There were smaller runs on the Lincoln Trust Co. and other institutions, including savings banks. These developments were accompanied by a demoralized stock market and with call rates going up to 125%, or the highest since Dec. 1905. The failure of the Westinghouse Electric and three of its subsidiary companies and the closing of the Pittsburgh stock exchange added to the unsettlement.

On Thursday, Oct. 24, in the last hour, occurred the real panic, when prices dropped 1 to 2 points between transactions. One break of 10 points was made in Union Pacific in as many minutes. Call rates went to 100%, but, despite bids of 200%, no money was offered. What appeared to be an inevitable complete smash was averted by the Morgan banking pool, which loaned $25,000,000 on call at 10%. Early in the day the failure of 2 Manhattan state banks was announced, and 1 savings bank closed its doors. A 3-day holiday was declared in Nevada, and there were banking failures in Penn. and Rhode Island. In the next 2 days 6 Bkln. trust companies and banks suspended and 1 additional Mhnt. bank.

The runs on the banks also continued. The Trust Co. of America continued the storm center, and on Sat., Oct. 26, the runs on the savings banks became so general that those institutions united in the announcement that hereafter they would require legal notice of deposit withdrawals of from 30 to 90 days. The same day the Clearing House voted to issue certificates following a deficit in bank reserves of $1,233,300, or the first deficit of the year.

A step of first importance to improve the situation was the beginning of a heavy gold import movement. This was continued throughout December, the movement being stimulated by the currency premium and despite the fact that foreign exchange went to a level above the normal gold export rate. The total gold movement announced was about $105,000,000 or a new high record in any similar period. The bulk of this was secured from London and the balance from Paris. Foreign markets were very unsettled and to check the gold loss the Bank of England's discount rate was successively raised until on November 7 it went to 7 per cent., or the highest level in 34 years. The Bank of Germany the next day raised its rate to 8 per cent., or the highest on record, while the Bank of France's rate went to 4 per cent., or the highest since 1900.

The financial unrest spread all over the country. The premium on currency ruled at all the leading cities, many Clearing Houses issued checks that were used as money, banking failures were announced almost daily, several states announced a series of legal holidays and the Duluth Board of Trade and the New Orleans Stock Exchange were closed. Heavy currency shipments were made from N. Y. to the interior and the bank statement showed a continuous weekly deficit, the top point being reached on November 23, with a deficit of $54,103,600, which is by far the largest on record.

On Nov. 18 the U. S. Treasury announced the issue of $50,000,000 Panama Canal bonds and up to $100,000,000 of 3 per cent. one-year Treasury certificates, the latter being available to secure new bank circulation. Early in Dec. the Treasury modified its plans and despite heavy bidding for the Panama Canal bonds the issue was cut to $25,000,000 and sold at an average of 103, while only $15,000,000 of the certificates were issued, practically all to banks. This is the first issue of the Treasury certificates and as they were authorized as a Spanish War act of 1898 "to meet public expenditures," many bankers and lawyers called their issue illegal. Sensational developments in the latter part of Nov. were the suicide of ex-Pres. Barney of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. and of Howard Maxwell, the former president of the suspended Borough Bank of Brooklyn. The Kings County Grand Jury also indicted a number of the officials and directors of the suspended Brooklyn banks.

An important factor in the year's almost steady decline in security prices was the continuation of governmental, both Federal and State, hostility towards corporations. The year's sensational feature was the Standard Oil fine of $29,240,000, imposed on Aug. 3, for accepting rebates from the Chicago & Alton R. R. This was the maximum fine, or $20,000 on each carload. Following this fine Standard Oil stock broke to 466 or the lowest price since 1893. The Chicago & Alton was later granted immunity for aiding the prosecution. The fine has not been paid to date and the case is being appealed. Another sensational development was the Interstate Commerce Commission's January and February investigation of the Union Pacific. This showed that the U. P. had purchased $103,000,000 worth of other railroad securities since the previous July, that the directors had given E. H. Harriman practically unlimited power, and stock watering and manipulation in the purchase of Chicago & Alton were charged against him. Traffic agreements with other roads were also disclosed that were said by opposing counsel to be illegal. Harriman refused to testify as to whether he had sold his stocks to the U. P., and proceedings are now pending to make him answer.

Twenty-eight of the States passed restrictive laws against the railroads, mostly enforcing a 2 cent passenger rate. Others gave enlarged powers to their railroad commissions and several passed laws forbidding the transfer of any suit from a State to a Federal court. The Federal Administration was also active and suits to dissolve, as monopolies, were begun or advanced against Standard Oil, the tobacco trust, the powder trust and the anthracite coal roads. In this State the new Public Service Commission began its work on July 1 and an investigation of the Manhattan traction system resulted in unsavory disclosures, including a "yellow dog" fund with large payments to politicians and grafting by insiders. Manhattan traction stocks went to the lowest prices on record, and the Metropolitan St. Railway went into the hands of receivers.

The low state of general credit was illustrated in the four N. Y. City bond sales. On February 1 only $27,600,000 of the $30,000,000 offered in 3½s were sold. On June 28 only $2,131,840 of $29,000,000 in 4s were sold. On Aug. 12, $15,000,000 4 per cent. bonds were offered, but only $2,713,485 were taken, and the average price was the lowest on record, or 100.004. On September 10 the interest rate was increased to 4½ per cent., and the $40,000,000 offered were all taken, with a large over-subscription, the average price being 102.063. A feature of the second half of the year was a collapse in the copper industry, with the price of that metal going from 25 cents in July to under 12 cents in October. The important deals of the year were in the sale of Tennessee Coal and Iron to U. S. Steel, of Chicago and Alton R. R. to the "Clover Leaf," and of the Central of Georgia R. R. to Harriman interests. The principal dividend changes of the year were reductions, and by such leading companies as Amalgamated, Anaconda, Calumet and Hecla and many other mining concerns, while Southern Pacific and American Smelting were the leading dividend increases.

Quite a number of interesting high records were made during the year. During October coal shipments were 6,015,851 tons, or the largest for any month. Pig iron production in October also made a new monthly high record of 2,336,972 tons. The Rand gold output in August was the largest for any month, or 555,000 ounces. The money in circulation on December 1 made a new high record of $3,008,241,543, while on the same date the per capita circulation of $34.71 was the largest on record. National bank circulation on December 1 was also a new high record of $856,218,196. On December 20 government deposits in banks was $254,787,127, or the largest on record to that date. Another feature was the big new security issues of the year, including short term notes. For eleven months the total of new securities authorized was $2,002,000,000 against $1,302,000,000 for the same period in 1906. Owing to the adverse market conditions only $1,183,000,000 of new securities were actually issued. New incorporations of big companies for eleven months were $1,443,900,000 against $2,237,900,000 for the year 1906.

Crop developments were very mixed, although the outturn was up to the average. Abnormally cold weather and low temperatures in the early part of the year delayed nearly all harvests and there were many "crop scares." This damage was partly regained by the late season's more favorable weather. The Department of Agriculture's estimate of the year's cotton crop was 11,678,000 bales against 12,546,000 bales for 1906. The corn crop was 2,592,300,000 bushels, against 1906's final and high record yield of 2,927,461,091 bushels. The total wheat harvest for 1907 has also been six times exceeded. The total crop was also placed at 634,987,000 bushels, against 1906's final and second high record crop of 735,260,970 bushels. The oats crop was 754,443,000 bushels, against 1906's crop of 964,904,522 bushels.

Stock Exchange seats almost steadily declined, selling as low as $51,000 in November, or the lowest since 1904. In December there was a rally to $65,000. The total merchandise exports and imports made new high records for the year. In November, cotton exports amounted to $75,151,302, or the largest for any month, and comparing with the previous record of $73,375,921 in December, 1903. Merchandise exports for the same month of $204,444,000 were a new high record for any month, as were Nov. total gold imports of $63,465,000. For the first nine months of the year U. S. Steel reported the largest earnings in any like period of $128,430,000 against $119,489,000 in the same period in 1906. There was a sharp drop in unfilled orders in the latter part of the year, the total on October 1 being 6,425,000 tons against the high record of 8,489,718 tons on January 1, 1907. Stock Exchange transactions were the smallest in years. For the year 1907 stock dealings amounted to approximately 196,000,000 shares against 285,000,000 for the year 1906. Bond transactions were approximately $529,000,000 against $675,300,000 in the year 1906. Up to the last week in December there were 48 million-share days against the high record of 123 in the entire year 1906. There were three busy days in 1907 with stock transactions in excess of 2,000,000 shares, the largest being March 14, with 2,571,400 shares.

Brooklyn Securities, 1907.

Easily the feature of the year in local securities was the sensational banking developments which came in October and November. The revelations in the banking world came after the suspension of one national bank, three state banks, and two trust companies. At first it was thought that the suspensions were on account of a lack of cash, but investigations into the affairs of some of the institutions which suspended did not confirm this opinion.

It was on Oct. 25 that the crash in the local banking world came. On that day the failure of the International Trust Co. of Manhattan was announced, and the closing of the Brooklyn and Borough banks of Brooklyn, both of which were closely affiliated with the Manhattan company, were also announced. On the same day, and quickly following the announcement of the Manhattan suspension, came the closing of the First National Bank, the Jenkins Trust Co., and the Williamsburg Trust Co. The closing of the Terminal Bank was announced the next day. All of the latter institutions were controlled by the Jenkins interests, which up to that time were supposed to be among the strongest in the borough. Up to the present time only one of the banking institutions which closed has reopened. This was the Terminal Bank. Temporary receivers were appointed for the suspended institutions, and later for two of them, the Williamsburg Trust and the Brooklyn Bank, the receivers were made permanent. A referee to look over the assets of the Borough Bank was also named by the court.

Following the closing of the banks and trust companies came rumors of irregularities in the affairs of the institutions. This caused the District Attorney's office to look into the matter, and the result was that seven of the most prominent Brooklyn bankers were indicted, the charges comprising forgery, grand larceny, conspiracy, perjury, and the over-drawing of accounts. The men indicted were Howard Maxwell, president of the Borough Bank; Arthur D. Campbell, cashier of the Borough Bank; William Gow, a director and the chief stockholder of the Borough Bank; John G. Jenkins, sr., president of the First National Bank; John G. Jenkins, jr., president of the Jenkins Trust Co., and Frank and Fred Jenkins, both directors of the Jenkins Trust Co.

The local securities market closed the year at a much lower level than in 1906. This was especially true of the bank and trust company stocks.

During the year the local money market held firm. The position of the banks and trust companies which were not affected by local developments was little changed.

As regards the big local corporations, each of them had a good year. This includes the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co., the Brooklyn Union Gas Co., the Edison Electric Co., and the N. Y. & N. J. Telephone Co. The former is the only one which has issued a report of its earnings, and these figures show that receipts were the largest in the corporation's history. Further expansion is to be expected during the present year.

During the year there were five dividend changes on the part of local corporations, while three corporations declared initial disbursements. The changes were the declaration of a regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent. by the New York & New Jersey Telephone Co. The company previously paid 1½ per cent. quarterly, and an extra dividend of 1 per cent. at the end of the year. The Lawyers' Mortgage Co. declared a quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent., as against a previous rate of 2 per cent. The Coney Island & Brooklyn R. R. passed its quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. The North Side Bank declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent., against a previous rate of 3 per cent., and the Mechanics and Traders Bank dividend was cut from 10 to 5 per cent. The corporations making initial payments were the Kings Co. Mortgage Co., which was placed on a 6 per cent. per annum basis; the Prospect Park Bank, which was also placed on a 6 per cent. per annum basis, and the Home Bank, which was placed on an 8 per cent. per annum basis.

The following table gives the last bid and asked prices, the capital stock outstanding and the interest or dividend rate of the leading local securities on December 28, 1907:

SPORTING RECORDS.

AERONAUTICS.

Probably the greatest year this class of sport has had was the one just passed. On Oct. 23, Oscar Erbsloch, of Germany, sailed the record German war balloon Pomern from St. Louis, Mo., to Asbury Park, N. J., 873.4 miles, thereby winning the James Gordon Bennett International Cup. In this contest the French balloon l'Isle de France landed only six miles behind the Pomern, but broke the world's record with a flight extending 45 hours 49 minutes. Previous to this, Capt. C. de F. Chardier and J. C. McCoy of the U. S. Signal Corps No. 10, had won the Lahm Cup, offered by the Aero Club of America, to the first American balloonists to exceed 492 miles, which distance won the Bennett Cup in 1906. The world's record for distance is 1,193 miles, made in 1900 by Comte de la Vault. The American record is 1,150 miles, made by Prof. John Wise in 1859.

On Nov. 9, in Paris, Farman sailed his aeroplane in a circle of 999 meters and failed by one meter to win the Archdeacon-Deutsch prize of $10,000. On Nov. 18, Farman made a circle of 1,500 meters, but permitted his aeroplane wheel to touch the ground twice. On Nov. 13, A. G. Bell launched in the water at Halifax, N. S., a tetrahedral "kite ship," built of 3,393 tetrahedrons.

Brooklyn on January 26. Series of games were also played in Manhattan, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Chicago and Memphis. Dr. Lasker won the match without losing a game, the final score on April 6 being Dr. Lasker 8, Marshall 0, drawn 7.

The revival of the international cable matches between America and Great Britain was another feature of the year, and the Sir George Newnes trophy, held by the Brooklyn Chess Club for eight years, was recovered by the City of London Chess Club by a score of 5½ to 4½, on February 22 and 23.

The fifteenth annual tournament between Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton, held in New York during the Christmas holidays, was won by Columbia with a score of 1½ out of a possible 12. The winning team comprised J. R. Capablanca, L. J. Wolf, H. Blumberg and O. Brown. Harvard finished second with 8 points, Princeton third with 3½, and Yale last with one point.

A tie between Brown University and the University of Pennsylvania, at 5 points each out of a possible 8, was the outcome of the eighth annual meeting of the Triangular College Chess League held just before the New Year. Cornell finished third with a record of two wins and six losses.

On February 12, the championship tournament of the N. Y. State Chess Association, with ten entries, resulted in the victory of Julius Finn, who scored 3½ points in four rounds. A tie for second place at 2½ points each, resulted between H. Helms, P. Johnner and C. Jaffe. The general tournament, with 12 entries, was won by J. H. WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

In 1896 William Marconi announced that he had discovered the secret of transmitting wireless messages. On Jan. 23, 1901, he sent a message from St. Catharines, Isle of Wight, to the Lizard, Cornwall, England, a distance of 183 miles. Dec. 12, 1901, the first clear signal was received from a high tower station erected in Poldhu, Cornwall, at a temporary station across the Atlantic, near St. Johns, N. B. During July, August, September, 1902, messages were received on the Italian warship Carlo Alberto, transmitted from Poldhu, over land and water, at distances varying from 1,000 to 1,400 miles. Oct. 20, 1902, the same vessel, sailing from Plymouth, England, to Sidney, Nova Scotia, received signals throughout the voyage, a distance of 2,500 miles. In 1902 the S. S. Philadelphia also kept in communication with Poldhu for a distance of 1,500 miles. Dec. 16, 1902, from a tower erected at Glace Bay, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, a full message was sent to the London Times, England; another December 20, 1902, to King Edward VII. In Jan., 1903, a message of about 50 words was sent from Cape Breton station, from President Roosevelt to King Edward VII., and a reply of equal length returned from the King to the President. Since that time the application of the wireless system has increased with marvelous rapidity, both on land and water, becoming especially an essential of steamship and navy service. Oct. 17, 1907, the Marconi transatlantic wireless service between England and America as a commercial enterprise was inaugurated, the final step in making wireless telegraphy a distinct factor in the every-day life of the world.

In the United States, Dec. 11, 1907, 5 stations located as follows: Cape Cod (long distance), Sea Gato, Sagaponack, Siasconset, South Wellfleet (C. C.) (short distance).

In Great Britain there are 25 stations; Holland, 1; Belgium, 2; Italy, 22; Montenegro, 1; Egypt, 2; Canada, 25; Argentine, 2. On ship board there are 117 wireless stations, the complete list of which is as follows: Adriatic, Baltic, Cedric, Celtic, Cymric, Arabic, Marriage Licenses.

Chap. 742, laws of 1907, amending the marriage law, requires on and after Jan. 1, 1908, a marriage license from the town or city clerk of the town or city in which the woman to be married resides; if the woman or both parties are non-residents, then from the clerk of town or city where the ceremony is performed. The license fee is $1. A due form of license conforming to the marriage law of the state, is furnished by the clerk applied to. The license must be filled out by the clerk and signed by both contracting parties, under oath, who must apply therefor together, in person. If it appears that the parties are legally competent to marry, the license must be issued. Each town and city clerk and each county clerk must record and index in a book for that purpose as a public record each statement, affidavit, consent and license, together with the certificate thereto attached showing the performance of the marriage ceremony filed in his office. These records shall be evidence in all courts. False statements or affidavits are punishable, under laws of the state, for perjury. Licenses are issued in Bkln. by dep. city clerk, borough hall; in Queens, by county clerk, County Ct. House, L. I. City; in Mhnt., by city clerk, borough hall. Marriages may be solemnized by a clergyman, mayor, recorder, alderman, police justice or magistrate, a justice or judge of a court of record or municipal court, or a justice of the peace. If performed without a license the penalty is a fine not less than $50 nor more than $500, or imprisonment not over one year.

Nobel Peace Prize Fund.

An annual income of $225,000, derived from a bequest of $5,400,000 by Alfred Nobel in 1898, a Swede, and an inventor of dynamite, is divided into five annual prizes to each, respectively, who has done the most important work in physics, chemistry, physiology or medicine, literature and the promotion of peace. On Dec. 10, 1906, the peace prize, $40,000, was awarded to Theodore Roosevelt in recognition of the part he took in ending the Russian-Japanese War. This amount the President set apart as the nucleus of a fund, the income of which is to be used in bringing together in Washington representatives of capital and labor with a view to arriving at a better understanding between employers and employees. In pursuance of this disposition of the prize and under an act of Congress establishing the foundation of the fund, the President, Mch. 15, 1907, appointed in addition to the Chief Justice of the United States, the Secretary of Commerce and Labor and the Secretary of Agriculture, already selected, John Mitchell, Marvin Hughitt, Seth Low and Thomas G. Burk, seven in all, to constitute a board of trustees of the fund.

In most of the counties, the vote as returned for the two Bartletts, was not divided by the local canvassers to indicate the Republican and Democratic vote. Hence the use of four columns to set forth their vote. The consolidated vote shows merely the total vote cast in respect of party. The vote set forth in the second and fourth columns is evidently in both instances that cast by the Democrats for the candidates named at the head of such columns, while in the counties where the local boards have separated the vote, that set forth in the first and third columns is the Republican vote for the candidates indicated. The straight vote is given in all counties for the Ind. L., Socialist and Prohibition candidates. The total vote cast in the State was 2,710,365, including 44,370 scattering.

For amendment to constitution in relation to debt of cities of second class, total number of votes was 1,003,248, divided as follows: For, 352,905; against, 137,721; blank and defective, 512,622.

For amendment changing limit of population cities of first class, vote was 980,077, divided as follows: For, 309,159; against, 123,919; blank and defective, 546,999.

Grand Exhibition of Japan.

To be held in Tokyo in 1912, between April 1 and October 31, 1912, to demonstrate the growth of Japanese industry, civilization and resources, and will give accommodation to the different exhibits of foreign countries. COMFORT TO MANKIND

And since 1870 adding years to a man's life—Schnoter's Army and Navy Suspensory Bandage is the only permanent relief for Varicocoele, Hydrocoele and Rupture.

Before taking notice of Startling Advertisements of so-called Varicocoele Cures, see your family physician. Incidentally ask him about the Celebrated Schnoter's Suspensories—don't be surprised if he tells you he wears them himself. Any better endorsement wanted?

A Schnoter's Suspensory is the only safeguard against Varicocoele, Rupture, etc.

In use by all prominent Athletes, Professional Men, Business Men, Policemen, Firemen, Letter Carriers, and used in the United States Army and Navy.

Wheelmen should not be without one.

Endorsed by prominent physicians and surgeons since 1870. Also by authorities on Hygiene and Physical Culture.

We are specialists in Suspensory Making, and we will cheerfully give you any information regarding Varicocoele and Rupture.

Ask your druggist for the "Genuine Schnoter's Suspensory Bandages" (look for our Trade Mark, J.C.S.). If he has not our make in stock, and refuses to get it for you, send direct to us and we will mail you in plain wrapper on receipt of price.

Plain style, Cotton, 30c., 40c.: Linen, 50c., Silk, 50c., 60c. and 75c.: A. & N. Style, no elastic, 30c.

Army and Navy Style, with lisle elastic belt and straps, Cotton, 65c.; Linen, 75c.: Best Silk, $1.00.

It is wonderful what can be accomplished with a small want advertisement in THE BROOKLYN EAGLE. Everybody who wants to buy or sell anything always looks and reads these small ads.,
and if you want anything and will use the want columns of the Eagle, some one who has it will see your "want" and supply it. Try it once and forever be convinced.

Kissick's Business Institute

One of the best in Brooklyn for thorough instruction and training of Young Men and Women for business. The Institution occupies the entire building, lighted on all sides, in a select and central neighborhood, between Fulton Street and DeKalb Avenue, convenient to all the Trolley cars, the Long Island Railroad Depot, and the Kings County Elevated Railroad, and by means of the transfer system, convenient to all parts of Brooklyn and Long Island, and Greater New York.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT, for those who are backward or whose early education has been neglected. Such will receive individual instruction in the studies they require.

THE ENGLISH COURSE consists of Reading, Writing, Spelling, Grammar, Composition, Letter Writing, Literature, Rhetoric, Physiology, History, Geography, etc. Merchants and business men will agree with us when we say, that besides Penmanship, Arithmetic, Business Forms and Book-keeping—important as these unquestionably are—there are other things, without a knowledge of which, a good business education cannot be considered as complete. Among these we would particularly mention correct Spelling, Punctuation, and a sufficient acquaintance with the rules of Grammar and Composition to enable the student to compose either a good letter, business card or advertisement. For the acquisition of these accomplishments the ambitious student will find in our Institute the most ample facilities. The full English Course, per term, day, $25; evenings, $15. One year, day, $75; evenings, $45.

YOUNG MEN proposing to enter College or Theological Seminary, to engage in any of the learned professions, or anything requiring a liberal education, Higher Mathematics, Mechanical and Architectural Drawing, Lettering, Designing, etc., can have thorough instruction with us, day or evening.

LADIES' DEPARTMENTS. Separate apartment for Ladies and Misses, where they receive the same thorough instruction as gentlemen.

LANGUAGES. Students should earnestly consider the advantages to be derived from one or more of the Languages that are taught in KISSICK'S BUSINESS INSTITUTE, by quick, easy methods, and applied practically to the modern system of business correspondence at a very small cost, that will pay in better, steadier employment and larger salaries. We teach German, Spanish, French, Latin and Greek.

PARENTS, EDUCATE YOUR SONS and DAUGHTERS that they may be self-supporting, at least, if necessary.

IN NO OTHER institution is the comfort of the pupil more studied, and his moral training better attended to.

CIVIL SERVICE. Gentlemen and ladies prepared for examination.

CALL between 9 A. M. and 2 P. M. (evenings 7 to 9), that we may talk over our proposition. Our students have a quiet, clean, healthy, well-lighted place where each learner has the help of a competent, experienced teacher who explains the lesson to each student that he may learn it more thoroughly. An experience of forty-two years on our part, teaching and training young men and women successfully for business, is at your disposal. Telephone, 1191 Main.

TERMS reduced, in this Famous Institute, for thorough, practical teaching, in STENOGRAPHY, TYPEWRITING and BOOK-KEEPING, to worthy, ambitious young men and women seeking lucrative employment, and coming well recommended, with a fair English Education. The three studies formerly, day session, $50, now $20; evenings, $25, now $10.

STENOGRAPHY, TYPEWRITING AND BOOK-KEEPING, young men and women would learn thoroughly and practically, if they knew how they could be aided in securing lucrative employment, free of charge.

TYPEWRITING

There is a special demand for first-class Stenographers and Typewriters who can transcribe their shorthand notes satisfactorily.

THE UNDERWOOD STANDARD TYPEWRITER

Writing-in-Sight, creates an enormous saving in time. The machine is durable, convenient and rapid—the best in the market.

THE COMMERCIAL COURSE in this Institution includes all branches required to prepare pupils thoroughly, up-to-date, for business. Modern methods in Book-keeping by Single and Double Entry, Business Papers, Business Writing, Arithmetic, Spelling, Letter Writing, Business Law, Civil Government, Political Economy, Commercial Geography, History of Commerce, etc. Our students can take the whole or part of this course. None excel us in giving good attention, honest dealing, kind treatment to each student, and none equal us in moderate prices for a thorough business education by competent, experienced teachers.

Per term of 10 weeks, Day, $20. Evening, $10.

Per term of 10 months, Day, $60. Evening, $30.

PENMANSHIP is taught by the Principal and his assistants. In removing stiffness, trembling of the hand, and in making Good, Plain, Rapid, Graceful, Off-hand Business Writers (Muscular Movement), they stand pre-eminent. $8 per quarter; 25 lessons, $5.

EVENING SESSION. For the benefit of those who may be unable to attend during the day, we hold an evening session from 7 to 9 o'clock. None too backward or too old to learn, as each student will be instructed separately.

DEPORTMENT. The discipline of the Institute is mild, but effective. We rule by love, and not by fear. The Principal and his assistants appeal to the student's sense of gentlemanly propriety and behavior; yet prompt and cheerful obedience will be insisted upon, and no insubordinate person will be retained in the Institute.

Kissick's Business Institute

Students can commence any time, and terms date from the time they begin with us.

College open for Instruction, Visitors and Applications from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

THE ADVANCED SCHOOL OF VOCAL ART, by ALMA WEBSTER-POWELL

Is used in the Vocal Department of the Institute

THE BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE says of this work:

"Properly she gives as the 'four great corners of the vocal art,' 'silent and perfect breath control; distinct enunciation; ability to execute flexible passages on interrupted or sustained air column; and the control of the phrase endings, in full sustained tones crescendo and decrescendo.' Throughout the work the author insists upon nature, unaccompanied by straining after so-called art, or strange ways, to produce effects. The work is well edited and its graduated, yet thorough exercises make it valuable to any earnest student of voice culture."

ANNABEL GRAY

Piano Voice Culture, including Breath Control, Articulation, Enunciation and the overcoming of forced tones.

Untrained voices carefully placed and developed. The most modern methods in teaching are employed. Special attention given to elementary studies in order that a good foundation may be laid; also to touch, phrasing, fingering and expression

More new business and accounts are secured for

through the personal interest of its depositors and friends than in any other way. This must necessarily be so, because it is essential that anyone desiring to do business with the Company be favorably known."

THE above is quoted from a small booklet issued several years ago and which proved of great value. (

Advertising in a publication reaching the people whose business is desired, is, in a large sense, the personal solicitation of the Company. Among the readers' acquaintances many mutual friends are undoubtedly to be found, and so the erstwhile stranger easily becomes the "favorably known" client. At first probably as a depositor only; later, as the Company's methods and facilities are better known and understood, the

ABRAHAM & STRAUS,

We can only say that the EAGLE is the only paper that carries our full, every-day advertisement.

J. McCARTHY, Advertising Manager.

H. BATTERMAN,
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

The fact that we have used the Brooklyn EAGLE so many years is in itself as good a recommendation as we can give. One but needs to look over its columns from day to day to learn that its advertising patronage increases daily. That fact alone better substantiates its worth as an advertising medium. We shall undoubtedly continue our employment of the EAGLE in the future as in the past.

H. BATTERMAN.

YARMOUTH, NOVA SCOTIA, June 12, 1907.

Gentlemen:—From a business-like advertisement of John M Rankin & Co., which I saw in a copy of the Brooklyn EAGLE late in March, 1907, and which led to correspondence with the firm mentioned, I was enabled to sell some Flatbush property.

Very truly,

G. C. CREELMAN.

TO THE MANAGER OF THE BROOKLYN DAILY EAGLE,
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

NEW YORK, June 27, 1907.

Dear Sir:—Desire to express our gratitude to the Brooklyn Daily EAGLE for the great success in bringing us the extraordinary large results on the opening sale of our property at Rahway, N. J., last Sunday, the 23d inst. We expected about 50 or 60 people, and instead of that we got over 500, and our arrangements were entirely inadequate to handle the same. The result was that we practically sold out the first section, which compels us to open up our second section for this Sunday. Very truly yours,

THE KLINE REALTY & IMPROVEMENT CO.,

ALBERT FISHER & CO., INC., PHARMACISTS,
1730-1732 BROADWAY, BROOKLYN.

Judging by the demand we have for medicines advertised in the Brooklyn EAGLE, that medium certainly reaches the people and pays the advertiser well.

ALBERT FISCHER & CO., INC.,

Per ALBERT FISCHER, Pres.

Dear Sir:—The advertisement which you kindly inserted for me in Sunday's EAGLE brought back the painted design I lost on Saturday. It speaks well for the value of the EAGLE as an advertising medium. Cordially yours,

HELEN CHASE.

A Quantity of Quality

There are only seven English morning newspapers of general circulation in New York City, and they serve a constituency of 7,000,000 people. It is wise, not costly, and will prove profitable to advertise judiciously in all of these seven excellent newspapers, but if you must discriminate, it is well you should know that the daily circulation of The New York Times has passed 150,000 copies. More than three-fourths of this circulation is in the metropolitan district of New York, including Brooklyn, the Bronx, Jersey City and Newark, and its circulation in this district nearly equals, if it does not exceed, the combined circulation of the three morning newspapers which are popularly classed with The New York Times as to quality and character of circulation.

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print"

If your advertisement is also "fit to print" it is welcome to the columns of THE NEW YORK TIMES. Questionable advertisements of every description are excluded.
